By TERRY HAMMOND
NEW WESTMINSTER — Fourteen Liberal MPs have signed a secret petition urging the Pearson government to adopt Social Credit monetary reforms, national Social Credit leader Robert Thompson said here yesterday.

His sensational disclosure was made before more than 500 delegates and guests attending the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit League.

He presaged the remark by telling the large audience that what he had to say was "a secret."

He asked reporters to treat the disclosure as off the record. But newsmen covering the convention told Mr. Thompson that the remark could not be accepted in that vein because it was made at an open meeting and before a large crowd.

He argued that newsmen covering the convention here should regard the remark as a confidence because he has made it several times across the country and it hadn't been printed yet.

If newsmen used the remark, he continued, he would be accused of a breach of confidence.

"I don't want to make political capital out of this," he said.

Mr. Thompson declined to elaborate on his remark other than to say the number of Liberal MPs growing disenchanted with the federal government's fiscal policies is still growing.

COLDWATER, Kan. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jacobs have a puppy and a parakeet. They reported this week the parakeet doesn't talk very well but has learned to bark like the dog.

Easy Win

Home Isn't Worried

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, fresh from victory in a Scottish by-election that won him a seat in the Commons, said Friday his victory in Kinross and West-Perthshire was a "decisive vote of confidence" in himself and his government. He gained a 9,328-vote plurality.

But Conservatives still brooded over their humiliation in Luton, where voters spurned the defending government candidate and Labor won by 3,749 votes.

UNSAFE CLASS
Politicians said Douglas-Home's defence of a safe Scottish seat was of much less significance than the Luton defeat as a pointer to national opinion. Luton is one of nearly 100 Tory ridings in the "marginal" or unsafe class.

But Home shrugged off Luton as "the last page of the old chapter" and Kinross as "the first page in the new."

Home's 14,147 votes were more than those of his six opponents combined. A Liberal came second and a Laborite third. Independent William Rushton of That Was the Week That Was won only 43 votes.

$3,000,000 Bond Offer Too Late

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday an eastern financial man wanted to buy $3,000,000 worth of British Columbia parity bonds but he couldn't.

The premier told the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit party that the man told him: "Oh, Mr. Premier, I'd like to buy $3,000,000 worth of them."

Later, in an interview, Mr. Bennett identified the man as Douglas Weldon of Midland-Oiler Securities Limited of London, Ont. The premier said he told him B.C. didn't have a nickel's worth of parities to give him.

Parities are government-guaranteed bonds that can be cashed at par at any time.

Upset Victory

Browne Loses Post To Langley Farmer

NEW WESTMINSTER — A 30-year-old Langley fruit farmer last night became the upset victor in a six-way scrap for presidency of the B.C. Social Credit League, defeating Victoria's Archie Browne on the fifth ballot.

New president of the league is George Driedger, who has been a party member for 10 years, but who attended his first convention yesterday.

Driedger, a rank outsider in the race, was stunned by his own victory.

DIDN'T KNOW PAY

He couldn't even tell reporters how much the job pays.

Party officials filled them in — the salary is $8,000 a year.

Mr. Browne took over the presidency nine months ago on the death of George Hahn. Before that he was vice-president of the league and the natural successor to the top post.

His defeat came as a complete

Half a Loaf Not Better

TORONTO (CP) — Charles H. Millard, one of the three trustees of maritime unions in Canada, said Friday night a decision to halt the picketing of Canadian ships in U.S. port is not good enough if it exempts ships of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited.

"I can't say that half a loaf is better than none," Mr. Millard commented. He said that continued picketing of Upper Lakes ships carrying crews of the Canadian Maritime Union (CMU) constitutes discrimination against Canadian crews.

Official Drops Dead

Race Payoff Fans Riot, Start Fires

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — One man died and several others were injured Friday night as more than 500 harness track spectators rioted following a six-horse accident at Roosevelt Raceway.

The dead man was identified by track officials as Conrad Rothengast, head of the track's security police and a former chief inspector of New York police. Roosevelt officials said he collapsed and died of a heart attack shortly after the riot began.

Some 40 police cars carrying some 100 policemen and members of the riot squads from Nassau County were rushed to the suburban track to try to quell the riot. Fire equipment was called after the fans set at least eight fires in the stands at the multi-million dollar structure.

The fans rioted because the spill cut down the top horses in the race and automatically negated the twin-double possibilities for most of the bettors.

The twin double involves coupling the winners of the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth races. Considerable payoffs are involved. Just last Wednesday, the Roosevelt twin double returned a world record $78,689.30 to one bettor.

The riot finally was brought under control at about 11:35 p.m., approximately one hour and 10 minutes after it started. New fires were being set and the rioting continued nearly an hour after the first spectators reacting when the result of the sixth race on the nine-race program was made official — poured over the rail and on to the track.

The tote board in the infield was destroyed. One sully was broken into pieces and set on fire. Press box observers counted eight fires burning in the stands below them.

Some rioters were hurt when club-wielding policemen tried to stop them from overturning police cars that were parked on the track near the finish line.

Windows and doors were broken and torn loose, glass signs and doors kicked in and sets were ripped up and turned into kindling by the surging throng.

Won't Picket Canadians U.S. Unionists Decide

Reaction Guarded In Ottawa

CHICAGO (AP) — Labor leaders decided Friday to stop picketing Canadian ships that have been tied up at Great Lakes ports for a week.

The announcement followed conferences between Jules Seurat, of Washington, a lawyer for the U.S. National Labor Relations Board, and Irving Friedman, lawyer for the Great Lakes district of the Seafarers' International Union and Local 19 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

The union said its decision to stop picketing covers all vessels that have been idle, except freighters of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited of Toronto which have been trying to take on a cargo of wheat in Chicago for more than six months.

Seurat said ships of two other companies involved in the tie-up will be loaded or unloaded without interference.

INVESTIGATING
The NLRB has been investigating complaints of unfair labor practices against the SIU.

The SIU began picketing a week ago in a protest against the Canadian government's action in placing the SIU and other Canadian maritime unions under trusteeship.

Canada's Flying to Pieces!

Island, B.C., Quebec—Even Indians Want Out

QUEBEC (CP) — Pierre Berton said Friday Canada seems to be "in very real danger of flying apart—not into two pieces, one English-speaking and one French-speaking, but into half a dozen pieces."

For years, the nationally-known writer told laughing students at the Loyal University congress of Canadian affairs, there was no debate at all in Canada.

"It was all like British Columbia," he said. "The only separatist movement that really isn't getting anywhere is the one I belong to: That's the movement to separate Canada from the United States."

Six Guards Kidnapped In Record Gem Haul

NEW YORK (UPI) — A

gang of hijackers, two dressed like policemen and three wearing Halloween masks, Friday stole an estimated $1,000,000 worth of jewels and kidnapped six guards in perhaps the largest such U.S. robbery.

The jewels, being transported from a jeweler's exchange to a firm in lower Manhattan, were in 2,000 separate white envelopes. The loot of necklaces, rings and brooches had been cleaned or repaired and were being returned to their owners.

It took the gunmen only a matter of seconds to force the delivery wagon carrying the jewels to the curb, overcome the guards and escape.

The jewels were being returned by the AAA Messenger Service.

WITHOUT TRACE

Police converged on the area and quickly sealed it off with dozens of roadblocks, but the gang had disappeared without a trace.

Chief of detectives Lawrence Kearney said the messenger service station wagon left the jeweler's exchange shortly before 1 p.m.

Max Krixman, manager of the messenger service, was sitting in the front seat along-side driver Louis Moots of Ridgefield, N.J. The other four guards were in the back with the jewels.

INSIGNIA INITIALS

Kearney said that when the station wagon turned on 41st Street, a black sedan that appeared similar to an unmarked police car pulled up along side. Moots and Krixman noted the two men inside were wearing policemen's uniforms with the insignia initials SP for Special Police on their collars.

The phony policemen forced the station wagon to the curb. One of them got out of the car and approached the messengers.

NO VIOLATION

"We thought we were being pulled over for a traffic violation," Krixman said.

But one of the "policemen" suddenly whipped out a pistol and said "this is a holdup."

At the same time, a black panel truck pulled up behind the station wagon blocking it, and a man with a Halloween mask over his face appeared on the other side of the station wagon with a sawed-off shotgun.

The six guards were quickly ordered into the rear of the panel truck and were handcuffed to a railing.

Big Two Break Wheat Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Soviet deadlock over terms for the sale of surplus United States wheat was broken Friday night when the U.S. government put it up to American grain merchants to make their own deals.

The Americans lost no time in bidding for the $500,000,000 worth of Soviet-bloc business and the first sale was signalled when the commerce department granted a licence for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat to Communist Hungary.

SOFT WINTER WHEAT

In Minneapolis, Cargill Incorporated announced it had received this initial licence. A spokesman said the deal involved about 3,700,000 bushels of soft winter wheat valued at $6,500,000, minus transportation charges.

The company said the transaction was within the confines of the government agreement, namely that at least 50 per cent of the shipments would move in U.S. vessels, according to their availability. First shipments are expected to go forward late this month.

The deal with Hungary was a $7,600,000 transaction, including the cost of delivery.

19 Perish Three Live

HELSINKI (AP) — Nineteen adults and two children perished Friday night when a DC-3 belonging to the Finnish airline Finnair crashed 230 yards from the runway when it came in for landing at Marhamas, capital of the Åland Islands in the Baltic.

Two passengers and the air hostess were found alive and brought to hospital.

Michelangelo Masterpiece To Travel to New York

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The famous Pieta of Michelangelo will be shipped to the New York World's fair with Pope Paul VI's authorization, it was announced yesterday.

The famous marble group, carved by Michelangelo for his own tomb and showing the dead Christ held by the Virgin Mary, will be shipped from Genoa on April 5, with special precautions for its safety.

Autobahn Incidents

Soviet Move Baffling Says Rusk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said yesterday that "I don't understand" what the Russians are up to in touching off incidents on the Berlin highway. But he emphasized that the United States is not giving in.

Rusk told his news conference that a long-range solution to the Berlin problem could be worked out "if the other side would, in a spirit of reciprocity, recognize the vital interest of the West." But he said Russia has not been willing to do so.

Asked to speculate on why Russia had delayed three Allied convoys—two American and one British—on the Berlin highway since Oct. 10, Rusk replied, "I don't understand it." He said the Soviets' behavior on the question of autobahn procedures seems to be "cut across and interrupt" the other things they are saying.

The incidents, he noted, came at a time when the Soviets had signed the nuclear test ban treaty and had been talking about freer trade with the U.S.

Rusk's expressed puzzlement came as the Russians changed their "tough" tactics yesterday and cleared large U.S. and French convoys sent to Berlin to demonstrate Western determination. The convoys got through without a hint of trouble.

Rusk said that, despite Soviet claims that the United States touched off the incidents by changing procedures, "we have been following the practices we have been following for years."

Despite the seemingly trivial character of the dispute over procedures, Rusk said, the West considers the matter "utterly fundamental" because changes in procedures could be considered a surrendering of rights.

No Combined Fleet

NATO Body Urges More U.S. Subs

PARIS (Reuters)—Parliamentarians from the 15 NATO countries urged the United States Friday to assign more than the present three U.S. nuclear submarines to the Atlantic alliance's fleet, but they did not endorse a U.S. proposal for a multilateral NATO nuclear force.

The final plenary session Friday endorsed a recommendation of the conference military affairs committee that the "nuclear resources at the disposal of the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe be increased by the assignment of existing resources, increased co-ordination at operational level and the exchange of information."

The recommendation was approved by delegates of 14 of the NATO countries. One Danish delegate, however, voted against it and four other Danes abstained.

Members of the military committee said later the cautiously worded recommendation meant NATO defences should be strengthened from the stock of United States Polaris submarines instead of building up a special multilateral nuclear force.

Missile Power Growing U.S. Closing Air Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, proclaiming its overwhelming nuclear superiority over the Soviet Union, announced yesterday it is shutting down two Strategic Air Command bases in England as the prelude to a major shift to sea and land missile defences.

The far-reaching change in U.S. strategic forces was made possible by the rapid growth of the Polaris submarine fleet and the intercontinental ballistic missiles based on American soil, a Pentagon announcement said.

The United States is expected to have nearly 300 ICBMs ready to fire by the end of the year. Its Polaris subs, each armed with 16 missiles, are being produced at the rate of one a month.

A dozen are already stationed in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, with 192 missiles able to penetrate the heart of the Soviet Union.

Foreign Companies

Tax Changes 'Iniquitous'

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal budget's changes in withholding taxes on foreign investment earnings to spur increased Canadian investment in foreign-controlled subsidiaries were attacked in the Commons Friday as "iniquitous and discriminatory."

"This is a very retrograde step," said J. Waldo Monteith, MP for Perth and former Conservative health minister. It would discourage future foreign capital inflows and frighten away foreign capital already in Canada.

He levelled his criticism just before the Commons completed final clause-by-clause approval of the government's bill to implement income tax changes announced in Finance Minister Gordon's June 13 budget.

The bill, which has been debated nine days, now needs only a third, final reading—normally a formality—before it is passed and sent to the Senate.

The controversial change in withholding taxes on dividends paid from foreign-controlled subsidiaries to their foreign investors is aimed at encouraging a minimum 25-per-cent Canadian investment in the subsidiaries.

The 15-per-cent withholding tax is cut to 10 per cent, effective last June 14, for subsidiaries which meet this requirement. It would rise to 20 per cent on Jan. 1, 1965, for those which don't.

State Secretary Pickersgill, who had been attempting to reconcile demands for study of the matter by a standing Commons committee, said outside the chamber that the legislation had been accepted from the former government without changing a comma.

"We can't pass it without a majority government," he said, "and we are not prepared to use closure on Mr. Diefenbaker's legislation."

Future action must await developments, he said.

The four elected members of the nine-man territorial council, fledgling legislative body for the northern third of Canada, will have exhausted their three-year terms after Nov. 21.

Territories Bill Runs into Trouble

OTTAWA (CP)—Legislation to split the Northwest Territories into two separate divisions hit grief Friday in the Commons and elected members of the existing territorial council will be out of office after Nov. 21.

Northern Affairs Minister Laing accused Gene Rheame (PC—Northwest Territories) of obstruction in dealing with the legislation prepared by the former Conservative government.

Accused Husband Got $1,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Testimony was given Friday that T. Eugene Thompson, St. Paul lawyer accused of arranging the brutal slaying of his wife, has collected $1,000 in insurance on her life.

However, none of the $1,055,000 in insurance on the victim's life, which the prosecution contends was a key motive in the slaying, has been paid.

The money paid represented a policy taken out in 1941, when Mrs. Thompson was only 12 years old.

Wear a Poppy

THE POPPY is the universal symbol of remembrance, the badge that pays tribute to the sacrifice of the men and women whom the nation will honor on Monday.

It was Colonel John McCrae, who himself died in a wartime hospital, who enshrined the poppy in the hearts of man when he watched this blood-red flower rise between the crosses to bless the earth that marked the graves. His famous poem has become the core of Remembrance Day ceremonies.

To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

The red poppy will be on sale today and with double purpose. It was born of battlefield fire and blood and summons a remembrance that does not fade; it also serves those veterans who make its replica for distribution at this annual observance. The proceeds keep this work continuing and are used to relieve distress and protect the welfare of those in need.

Hold the torch high. Wear a poppy this weekend, in pride and gratitude as we honor the nation's war dead.

A Far Cry

THE FORT ERIE LETTER-REVIEW, a journal which enjoys wide readership throughout Canada and is particularly noted for its fair comment and judgment on both national and international affairs, reports this week on the unhappy situation of the white man in many of Britain's former African colonies.

"Britain's treatment of the white citizens of her former colonies in Africa," the Letter-Review says, "is being viewed with a good deal of resentment by those who are on the spot and know African conditions at first hand. The British press, in their view, is not really interested in what is happening to the colonists, and regards the non-African as expendable, even though these have given the best years of their lives in service to the natives and are the people who have brought the Africans to the level of civilization they have now reached."

The Letter-Review goes on to quote a Tanganyika correspondent as saying that though Britain ignores the plight of her white subjects in her former colonial territories she continues to pour millions of pounds into the new African states as free gifts for public works, hospitals, schools, and airports.

Other countries also give aid to these emerging nations, the correspondent notes, but all with strings attached, such as repayable loans or gifts of machinery whose spares and replacements will bring subsequent business.

Yet in spite of this, the new citizenship laws put into force in Tanganyika — with Kenya and Uganda likely to follow suit — demand visas from any British or Commonwealth citizen visiting the country. Germans and Israelis, on the other hand, are allowed free entry.

He also reports on the great bitterness among white Rhodesians against Britain. "Many who fought during the war," he writes, "and lost friends and members of the family, would not now care if the people in Britain were again attacked and defeated. I don't believe this, but it hurts to hear people whom I know have done good work in building these African states so bitter because the Macmillan government have made such an appalling mess of handing over power . . ."

The correspondent might have added the fact that these tragically acidulous views come from white Rhodesians who are not only Rhodesian citizens but British subjects (the African natives in British colonies are not British subjects but are categorized as British Protected Persons).

Certainly it is a far cry from the days when the whole British fleet would have swung into action had the life or welfare of but one British subject been placed in jeopardy in a hostile land.

Mr. Macmillan's "wind of change" has indeed blown hard.

Twisted Facts

BY A misrepresentation of circumstances, even if this were the result of lack of information or misunderstanding, the Victoria Labor Council has succeeded in casting a completely unwarranted slur on Canadian justice.

The council decided to write to Premier Robarts of Ontario asking for a royal commission investigation of the killing of three union men last winter in that province and the legal consequences. This decision in itself perhaps was fair enough, although the thought might have struck the council that such a request should be preceded by and dependent upon a clear determination of the available facts.

But unfortunately the impression was given by delegates that extraordinarily light sentences — fines of $100 — had been imposed for the killing of the union men by non-union woodcutters.

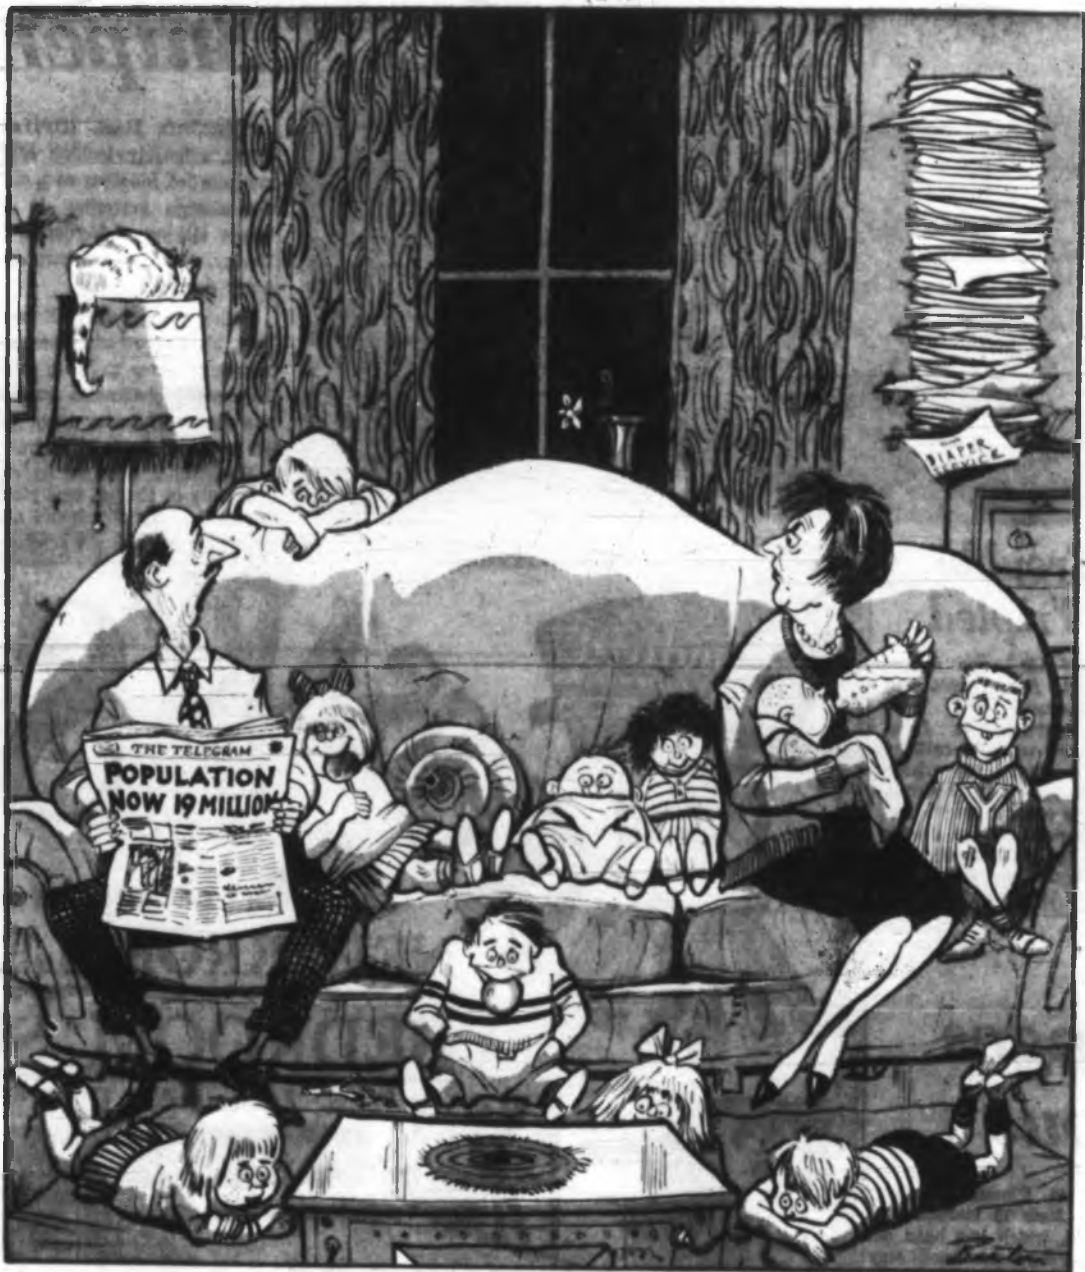

"In Ontario if you shoot a moose out of season the fine is $500," said one. "It looks as though there's an open season on a worker who is legally on strike." Another described justice in this case as "not only blind but blind drunk."

What are the facts? The three bushworkers were shot when, together with other strikers, they raided a camp of independent, log-cutting settlers whom they suspected of defying their boycott of a lumber company. Twenty settlers were charged as a result, each with three counts of non-capital murder.

Early in October, as some labor council delegates surely must have read, all twenty were cleared of these charges by a grand jury of the Ontario Supreme Court. They were also cleared of rioting.

The grand jury however returned "true" bills against three of the men on a joint charge of possessing offensive weapons. And it was for this offence that each was fined $100.

The labor council, apart from the recklessly insulting "blind drunk" reference of one delegate, might have been within its rights to question the findings of the grand jury, had it substantial reason to disagree with them. But the representation that killing union men was punished by a $100 fine is a discredit to the organization.

"Well, don't look at me . . ."

Implacably Consistent

Mao's Inevitable Successor

By RON FULTON

ON OCT. 1, this year, Mao Tse-tung sat at a banquet table to observe the 14th anniversary of the People's Republic of China. Foreign observers quickly reported it was the first time he had done so since giving up his position of the republic in 1958.

The Western world must feed on such scraps of information to assess the puzzle of mainland China as long as it remains outlawed by the United Nations and locked within a land mass housing 720,000,000 souls.

Like agriculturists judging a section of wheat by a handful of kernels, Western intelligence must pick over occasional words dropped by Peking Radio or travelling missionaries and refugees.

In this fashion the pieces of the Chinese puzzle are constantly jumbled in a dangerous and frustrating game. The new pieces are too slippery to grasp. The old ones perpetuate the myths and personalities of the men behind Red China. And in handling either the old or the new there is little comfort for the West.

The most frightening quality of the leaders of Red China is their remarkable consistency. No purge or realignment has stripped their strength or caused them to deviate, a la Moscow, from the hard line of domination by force.

Their history Stokes no optimism that Mao's inevitable death will blunt their dedication. He is 69 now, and is said to have some difficulty walking. But it was apparent from his last photograph (taken at Peking airport last July) that he was being ravaged by neither disease nor age.

Once, Mao and his henchmen found it polite to talk to Western newsmen. They were locked in war with Chiang Kai-shek and needed the publicity. That data forms the bulk of the West's knowledge about them still. It is still useful because most of them are alive and very much in power.

The ideas and ideals which sustained them when Mao led them 8,000 miles to Yenan in 1934 do not appear to have altered a whit.

Five men of the standing committee of the present 19-man Politburo have stood by Mao for 30 years. Their names are Liu Shao-chi, Chou En-lai, Teng Hsiao-ping, Chu Teh, Lin Biao and Chen Yun. Of these, Liu Shao-chi is the most important.

He has been standing in the wings, recognized as Mao's inevitable successor since 1956. Some recognized him even earlier. He has been chairman and head of state of the People's Republic of China since April 27, 1959. Mao's views are his.

Russia may hear the Western optimist when it calls Mao a "foul liar." Peking may comfort the same Westerner when it scoffs at the Kremlin's fear of "paper tigers" if only because it is nice to see enemies fall out.

But within the Communist world are cold comfort when one of the matriarchs is imbued with Oriental fatalism and heads an army of 2,600,000. Western leaders are more realistic. They remember that it was Liu who said: "We are too ignorant to be beaten by atomic bombs."

Current history shifts evenly, but it is highly likely that Liu now looms as the largest question mark shadowing the meeting table of Mao.

When Mao resigned as chairman of the government—but remained as head of the party—in 1958, Liu stepped into a position for which he had been to train as a boy of 15 when he left his father's farm.

He was born, the sixth son, near Changsha in the southern province of Hunan, as was Mao. While his brothers stayed to the soil, he left for a university in Peking in 1918. By 1921 he was gobbling tainted knowledge at the Far Eastern University in Moscow.

Between times he had revealed revolutionary instincts by taking part in student uprisings as a member of the Socialist Youth Group headed by Chen Tui-hsi, founder of the Chinese Communist Party. He developed fast enough to be among those who expelled Chen as Trotskyite in 1927.

Reports vary on his age (from 63 to 59). But his last photograph, taken with Mao in July, revealed a moustached, stalwart man with greying abundant hair. His personality is said to be cold. His history

Washington Calling

THE strategy of the Southern segregationists in their war against the Kennedy and the North is not to be counted. The goal is to hold change to a bare minimum in the conviction that Northerners will themselves be alienated by the tactics of Negro leaders who seek by public demonstrations to make their case.

Thanks to the one-party system prevailing in most of the South and to seniority, their representatives in Congress are strategically placed to delay and obstruct civil rights legislation. The odds at the moment are probably against passage of a civil rights bill at this session. While Northern bickering and bungling have something to do with it, if this is the outcome the Southern bloc can take a big share of the credit.

The deepest of the Deep South is Mississippi and there, as this reporter observed recently, the effort is to keep the struggle on a cold war basis. The visitor is told that everything is fine. If it were not for a few outside agitators there would be no trouble at all.

Gov. Ross Barnett says Mississippi's industrial development is moving right ahead. If figures provided by the department of commerce in

When Mao dickered with Chiang, after Japan's surrender, Liu was said by some to be already No. 2 man in the party. Patience is his virtue.

More trouble walked with him when allied with Chiang Kai-shek, he went ahead of Chiang's forces on the Northern Expedition of 1927. But when Chiang broke with the Communists Liu broke with Chiang.

Between 1927 and 1930 he was in Moscow twice, studying at the Sun Yat-sen University. In 1928-29 he travelled through Russia and western Europe. In 1932 he was in the mountains of Central China with Washington show that other Southern states are making faster progress, then those figures are wrong and Mississippi's figures are right.

Under a system of community bond issues plants are built with public funds, the key handed to an incoming industrialist who pays a form of rent that services the bonds and then after a period of years he owns the plant. A right-to-work law incorporated in the state constitution keeps union influence down and wages correspondingly low. Claude Ramsey, state head of the AFL-CIO, calls this a kind of "socialism for the rich."

Resisters and nonconformists are squeezed out. At the beginning of last year 28 younger Methodist ministers signed a statement calling for freedom of the pulpit and for public schools to remain open if they were integrated. Only 12 are left in the state and one more is soon to go.

Recently six teams of Methodist ministers from Illinois were joined by Negroes in Jackson, the capital, and they sought to join in Sunday worship. Three teams were arrested, law enforcement officers enforcing the churches in two instances to carry out the arrest, according to the ministers. They were held in jail under $1,000 bond.

Men Culpa in Union

The MPs' Behavior

By COLIN CAMERON, MP

SOME of our newspapers plug out, leaving one lone Canadian to report to the people the names of members of Parliament who have been absent for votes, which is their right and their duty. Certainly, it was little short of a scandal that a hundred members were absent on one occasion. However, if newspapers are going to undertake this sort of research they should really make a job of it.

While it is true that a number were absent for no good reason—no good public reason that is to say—it is also true that among those named were a number who were absent for perfectly respectable reasons and it was extremely unfair that their names should have been listed as delinquents.

A number were in New York with the Canadian delegation to the United Nations, others were overseas as delegates to the NATO Conference in Europe or the Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference in Asia.

There may well be, indeed there are, good grounds for complaint that Canadian delegates to these international conferences all too often do little to enhance Canada's prestige abroad. But that is a different matter and one that should engage the serious attention of press and public. There can be no grounds for objecting to Canada's presence at such gatherings. What is disheartening is that in the Canadian Parliament they tend to be regarded as "Junkies" and as a consequence the delegates go there unprepared to deal with the matters under discussion and thus lay themselves open to charges of frivolous absenteeism when they attend them.

A more serious attention to both the quality of delegates and their preliminary briefing by the appropriate experts could make attendance at international conferences not only a rewarding experience for a member of Parliament but also greatly improve his quality as an MP and enable him to serve the Canadian public much more effectively than merely by being present to stand up and have his name recorded in a vote in the House of Commons.

Much of the trouble with this and former Parliaments has been caused by our national addiction to parish pump politics. The more members who are exposed to the more sophisticated and knowledgeable atmosphere prevailing in other parliaments the better, even if they miss a few votes on what are all too often trivial parish pump questions.

Nor can the press be entirely exonerated from responsibility for this state of affairs. All too often it gives active encouragement to a frivolous approach on the part of members of Parliament. A case in point was the occasion on which the House discussed the earth-shaking question of whether Mr. Thompson or Mr. Caouette was entitled to sit nearer the Speaker.

Although it is to be doubted if the people who send us here lose many hours' sleep on the matter of where we sit in the House of Commons, there was standing room only in the press gallery as serious ranks of newspapermen sat and stood with poised pens to record every detail of this epic encounter between the two wings of Social Credit. Messrs. Thompson and Caouette disposed of the press gallery emptied like a bath-tub with the Rev. Edwin King. A Missalopian educated in the North, he was assigned to a parish in Vicksburg and then elected for his racial views. Tougaloo is integrated, with seven white students attending.

The Reverend Mr. King is running as Lieutenant-governor, with the NAACP leader, Aaron Henry, of Clarkdale, in a write-in campaign to show what the Negro strength would be if Negroes were allowed to vote. This might be described as an act of ultimate defiance of the white majority. King speaks quietly of the threatening telephone calls and other acts of intimidation directed against him.

The price of conformity can be high. The Illinois Methodist reported they could find no Mississippi Methodist willing to go to the jail to administer Communion to the ministers held there. Finally two Catholic priests took the elements of Communion to the jail for use by the ministers.

Are Northern whites being alienated by Negro tactics? Lieut. Gov. Paul Johnson, the traditionalist Democrat running for governor, says he has had 25,000 letters from every part of the North sympathizing with the segregationist stand. Time, if one accepts this view, is on the side of the resisters.

The contrast between the accident rates of scheduled and non-scheduled aircraft operators in the United Kingdom for 1962 is remarkable.

In that year the regular British airlines flew 310,300 stage flights, 7,708,000 passengers were carried. Nine passengers were killed.

Over the same comparable period, the non-scheduled services operated 27,000 stage flights, 1,050,900 passengers were carried, and 102 passengers were killed. Air accident statistics can be very misleading but, in the foolish company of the birds, I know which system of flying I would prefer.

Quaint People

Thatch And Kilts

By CASSANDRA from London

THE British Travel Association wisely spends hundreds of thousands of pounds a year trying to attract foreign tourists to come to Britain.

The way in which they spend it is questionable. To the Americans the QTA presents us as the quaint old-fashioned people.

Stratford-on-Avon and all that; the Yeoman of the Guard; Trooping the Color; Mine Hosts; an Old English Inn—Old Pewter, Skout, English Ale and Roast Saddle of Mutton.

The exchange rate of the dollar makes the pound a weakening and a good time can be had by all—not only for the folks from Oklahoma who pay out, but also the folks from Oxford who take in.

The sugar-candy story that this country is all ruffles and bairds and thatch and kilts and spinning wheels goes on ignoring the fact that Britain is the most industrialized workshop on the most confined factory-site in the world.

We've got the roses and the heather but, by Vulcan, we've got the anvils, too.

Merrie England, spelt that way, has her foibles as well, that are not recorded round the shon-bedecked maypole, either. One of them I would like to see included as a footnote to the full-page colored advertisements that Americans see so often in their luxury magazines.

It might even appear in our friends across the water. This particular item recorded this week runs thus:

"When a police dog barked at him, 17-year-old Brian Lynn, of Stanleystead, Teddington, Middlesex went down on all fours and barked back."

"Lynn, at a Kingston-upon-Thames Magistrates' Court, was bound over for insulting behavior."

Tell that to the Beefeaters. Tell that to the Daughters of the Revolution. In spite of all these lush transatlantic advertisements, the British and the Americans are quite strangers to each other.

But if my young lad of seventeen, down on his knees and defying a police dog by barking at the brute can help to bind Anglo-American friendship, so much the better.

Only birds and fools fly—so goes the maxim.

Well, there are a lot of birds and fools and the two-legged ones without wings take in the air in rapidly increasing numbers.

I am among the latter. I fly because I have to. But there are some startling figures for 1962 showing the risk between flying on what are called scheduled flights, which are the regular advertised services of the main airlines, and the non-scheduled services.

The contrast between the accident rates of scheduled and non-scheduled aircraft operators in the United Kingdom for 1962 is remarkable. In that year the regular British airlines flew 310,300 stage flights, 7,708,000 passengers were carried. Nine passengers were killed.

Two-Culture Probe

Strong Nationalists Threaten Boycott

OTTAWA (CP) — The royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism concluded a two-day preliminary hearing Friday night after coming under attack from four different quarters.

Alberta's Social Credit government said in a preliminary submission that the inquiry should skirt the issues of constitutional amendment and federal-provincial tax sharing. These were the business of federal-provincial conferences, not a royal commission.

URGE OTHERS

The Federation of St. Jean Baptiste Societies, a strongly French-Canadian nationalist group with 275,000 members in Quebec, threatened to boycott the inquiry and urge other French-language organizations to follow suit.

Representatives of 100,000 federal civil servants expressed concern that increased use of French in the government would hurt the promotion opportunities of civil servants who speak English only.

MAKES THREAT

Dr. Marcel Frenette of Drummondville, Que., president of the St. Jean Baptiste Federation, said his group will withdraw its participation in the inquiry unless the commission accepts immediately the concept of two equal nations in one country.

He hinted that the commission should recommend the establishment of separate French-language schools across Canada, while making sure that no measures are taken to safeguard the cultures of immigrants and other "third groups."

ONE OR OTHER

"Far from raising a problem of cultural preservation, the numerical contribution of new Canadians adds up only to a problem of assimilation by one or the other of the two Canadian cultures," he said.

This view collided head on with the submissions of "third" ethnic or language groups, who stated that they object strongly to the term "new Canadian" and think that all Canadians should have equal rights to preserve their cultural heritage.

CIVIL SERVICE

The concern of English-speaking civil servants was voiced by Dr. Jean Dumouchel, vice-president of the 72,000-member Civil Service Federation, and Calvin Best, president of the 30,000-member Civil Service Association.

They argued against a quota system of dividing civil service jobs between French- and English-speaking employees. Government hiring and promotions should be based on merit alone.

Students Told:

Separatism Means Collective Suicide

VANCOUVER (CP) — Maurice Lamontagne, president of the privy council says separatism is "collective suicide."

Speaking at the University of British Columbia's French-Canada Week Friday, Mr. Lamontagne said:

"In my opinion, separatism would mean for Quebec economic stagnation, then political dictatorship and cultural poverty and finally annexation to the United States as a sort of liberation."

"The Atlantic provinces would be cut off from the rest of the country. B.C., the Prairie

'Stop Blaming Others' For Quebec Errors

OTTAWA (CP) — Quebec members of Parliament were challenged Friday night to suggest unemployment - solving programs that the Quebec provincial government will accept.

H. A. Olson (SC-Medicine Hat) said his personal findings in Quebec indicate that a solution to unemployment would go a long way to solving French-English divisions.

OWN MISTAKES

But Quebec members should stop blaming English-Canada for Quebec's own mistakes, the Albertan said.

Even if Quebec did become a separate state, it would have to continue to deal with English-speaking nations.

Mr. Olson said Quebec shied away from the initial federal-provincial agreement on the Trans-Canada Highway, from university grants, from the municipal development fund to some extent and from the Canada Pension Plan.

"This Parliament has seen a steady barrage from members of Parliament from Quebec to do something about unemployment."

Labrador 'Grab' Favored

OTTAWA (UPI) — A Creditiste MP has unveiled a plan in the Commons whereby Quebec would extend its territory in the northwest and snatch back all but the coastline of Labrador from Newfoundland.

Gilles Giguere, of Lapointe, said it was "geographic nonsense" that the land area around the north and eastern part of Quebec should not belong to the province.

He said Canada's three-mile international territorial waters limit should be observed within the country, and proposed that the three-mile area including islands around Quebec in Hudson and James Bay, and the northern tip of the province in Hudson Strait, should be turned over by the federal government.

TORONTO (CP) — George the squirrel will be able to brave the winter without qualm, and with a 53-piece wardrobe including white mink and Russian sable fur coats.

Keith Libby found George in an air conditioner at the Ontario Research Foundation in 1957 and started buying doll clothes "for laughs." Furrier Jack Creed helps out as well.

Blank Spot Marks War End

OTTAWA (CP) — A chance find at the University of California of an unusual seismographic record has recalled the method used to let the people of Ottawa know when the First World War ended.

In those days people awaiting expectantly for word of an armistice with Germany had no broadcasting stations to flash the news.

They were told to keep an electric light burning. When it went out this would be the signal that the armistice had been signed.

The electric power in Ottawa was shut off for 15 seconds on Monday, Nov. 11, 1918, at 10 minutes and 48 seconds after 3 a.m.

This novel method of communicating the signing of the armistice was recorded on a seismograph at the Dominion Observatory by Dr. Otto Klotz, former dominion astronomer.

Dr. Klotz was able to record the exact time the power was turned off in Ottawa because his seismograph was operated by electricity. However, the graph paper in the instrument was turned mechanically, and when the power was cut a blank spot appeared on the graph.

A copy of the record was found last month at the University of California by Perry Byerly, retiring professor of seismology.

Confederation Life announces...

Two important new plans for your personal protection

One plan keeps money coming in if you're laid up.
The other pays medical and hospital bills.

You are the one who has to provide food, clothing and a home for your family. It's no easy job. Like most of us, you count on a steady income to keep things going. You hope that nothing will happen to stop the money coming in. But suppose something does happen? The answer is now offered to you by Confederation Life.

For years, Confederation Life has been a leader in new insurance protection plans. As your needs for protection have grown, Confederation Life has expanded its coverage to meet your needs. Today, Confederation Life proudly announces two new plans for your benefit—and your family's.

New Income Replacement Plan

With this new Plan protecting you, your income won't stop if you are laid up. Every month, Confederation Life will send you a cheque. This monthly cheque will see to it that you—and your family—will always be able to carry on, comfortably.

Other features of the Plan: It can't be cancelled by Confederation Life under any circumstance. Only you can cancel this Plan. You pay a fixed premium. It cannot be raised—ever! The Plan pays dividends—saving you money on premium payments.

New Major Medical Plan

This new Plan will pay doctor bills, as well as hospital, surgical, nursing and other medical services, up to a substantial lifetime maximum amount. The Plan can be expertly tailored to supplement your Provincial Hospital and any other medical plans.

Other features: You are protected for as long as you wish to continue your protection—even for life. The Plan can include all members of your family. The Plan can never be cancelled by Confederation Life. Only you have this right. There is no limit to the number of times you can receive benefits. Dividends will save you money on your premium payments.

These two important new plans are being offered today by your Confederation Life Man. Ask him about them. And ask him about any other protection problems you may have. You'll find a talk with your Confederation Life Man is a step in the right direction for you.

Rusk on Congress:

Back Our Troops With Aid Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Rusk said today Congress should stop trying to legislate foreign policy and should back U.S. troops overseas with foreign aid dollars.

With Congress whittling away at the foreign aid funds sought by President Kennedy and writing bans on aid to some nations into the aid bill, Rusk told a press conference:

VERY CONCERNED

"I'm very much concerned about the tendency in the Congress to legislate foreign policy."

He said Congress moves a year at a time—but "the world moves very fast."

The Senate, considering legislation that would authorize $3,700,000,000 in foreign aid, has voted to ban aid to Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic.

DANGER AHEAD

Rusk said he is concerned about money cuts because "the large and dangerous questions are still in front of us."

He added the United States has about 1,000,000 military men overseas. And "I think they're entitled to have us support them by trying to get the job done without committing them to battle, if possible."

Judge Refuses to Quash Sabotage, Plot Charges

CAPE TOWN (Reuters) — The judge in South Africa's second major sabotage trial connected with an alleged plot to overthrow the government refused Friday to quash charges against the 11 defendants.

Ten coloreds (mixed-blood) and one black were charged with conspiring "to commit certain wrongful acts" and with committing sabotage by "inciting, instigating, commanding, advising or encouraging wrongful acts."

The judge said the prosecution is not obliged to inform the accused of very particular of this case against them.

Only Buzz for Fuzz

CALGARY—Samuel Tkatch, 25, of Winnipeg, who pleaded guilty to defrauding the public, has been fined $200 for selling motorless electric razors to Calgary Stampede visitors.

Lazio Herman, 30, also of Winnipeg, received the same fine on the same charge. Police said they sold razors in which buzzers had replaced motors to 12 people during Stampede Week for from $5 to $9.

MIAMI—Tommy Coe was on the job as a night watchman at a boatyard when his dog Toby showed up at 4 a.m. with a note tied to his collar. From his wife at home, two miles away, it said she was having labor pains. Coe drove home and took his wife to hospital where a daughter was born. The Coes named the baby Toby.

CHICAGO—The U.S. government directed Drs. A. C. Ivy and Steven Durovick to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for claiming krebiozen is an effective drug against cancer.

MONTREAL—Pierre Dupuy, chief of the 1967 Montreal world fair and former Canadian ambassador in Paris, named as general manager of the fair Andrew Knewstuber, economic counsellor at the embassy in Paris.

BEVERLY HILLS—Mrs. Harriet Fields, who married comedian W. C. Fields in 1900 but was separated from him from 1907 until his death in 1946, died at 85. She was left $10,000 of his $800,000 estate but won more than half of it through the courts.

HACKENSACK, N.J.—Guitarist Les Paul, 47, sued singer-wife Mary Ford for divorce.

TOMMY COE AND TOBY ... name goes on naming as co-respondents cow-boy singer-actor Foy Willing and building contractor Donald Hatfield.

VANCOUVER—Calgary truck driver James Reed was credited with saving lives of several bystanders and drivers when he rode his runaway flat-deck truck down a hill. The plywood-laden truck finally hit a warehouse, the load shifting and pinning Reed in the cab. His injuries were minor.

TERMINI, Sicily — Old-age

pensioner Giuseppe Elmasti didn't realize the tip of his nose had been bitten off in a fight. An unidentified friend noticed at the hospital, went back and found the tip, which was stitched back on by doctors.

ALBANY, N.Y.—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller plans to appoint former baseball star Jackie Robinson as chairman of the state athletic commission.

JACKSON, Miss.—Clayton Boyette, 60, pleaded guilty to stealing 60 vases from graves in a cemetery and selling them to junk dealers.

MILAN—A twin-engine plane carrying Eugenio Cefis, vice-president of ENI, the state-controlled fuel corporation, made an emergency landing when one engine failed soon after takeoff. Last year Enrico Mattei, ENI president, was killed in a plane crash near Milan.

SLOUGH, England—Garage owner William Sands, convicted only twice in more than 1,000,000 miles of driving, was fined £25 and grounded pending a driving test after causing a two-car crash. His first conviction was for speeding at eight miles and hour in 1904; he's 84.

DETROIT—News commentator Lowell Thomas, 71, suffered a mild heart attack and will be in hospital for an indefinite period.

LONDON—A picture of Princess Margaret will be among the photographs on the cover of a book written by calligrapher M. Rice-Davies, the Daily Sketch said.

VANCOUVER—Indian chiefs Richard Malloway of Sardis and Edward Thevarge of Lillooet leave next week for Ottawa to urge an Indian claims commission in Canada.

PARRY SOUND, Ont.—Toronto hunter Leonard Cooke, 78, lost in the bush Monday, diagnosed a medical checkup after being found in good condition. He was smoking a cigarette of crisp autumn leaves and said his worst hardship was lack of a smoke.

PHILADELPHIA—Visiting Dr. Borje Eklund of Stockholm recommended the establishment of clinics to help smokers who have been advised to quit but cannot break the tobacco habit.

SYDNEY, Australia—Dave Allen, Irish-born television comedian, tried his hand on the trampoline near the end of his program. He took one big jump, bounced off the mat and struck his head on the stage. He was unconscious five minutes.

Christmas Seals On Sale Again

Contributions to the annual TB Christmas Seal campaign in Greater Victoria have already started to pour in. Mrs. M. Alice Kimmitt, chairman of the Victoria and District Christmas Seal Committee, said yesterday.

She said the first day's receipts totalled $2,200, and before the campaign is over it is hoped the figure will exceed $25,000.

HOPE TO IMPROVE

"We do not set a specific campaign objective, but we hope to improve on our returns of last year which realized $25,112," said Mrs. Kimmitt.

Contributions should be mailed to 1902 Fort Street and anyone who has not received seals in the mail can phone the office at EV 24422.

"During the last 10 years, more than 70 local community health centres have been built in B.C.," said D. A. Geeke, executive secretary of the TB Society.

"British Columbia has the best local facilities for public health programs in Canada. Much of this has been made possible through Christmas Seal sales."

This year's seals depict a variety of stories and legends surrounding Christmas. These include various children's fairy stories as well as the Nativity scene.

OTHER DISEASES

Mr. Geeke said Christmas Seals have been sold for 36 years to raise money for the fight against tuberculosis and other chest diseases.

The money raised supports construction of chest clinics, community health centres, medical research, community TB skin test and chest X-ray programs.

Row in Italy Crisis

Capitalists Atheists Red Tells Bishops

ROME (UPI)—A Catholic Communist row over responsibility for atheism broke out yesterday in the midst of an Italian political crisis.

Palmino Togliatti, Jesuit as well as Russian-educated Communist party leader, lectured Italian bishops on religion. He said heartless capitalists, not his comrades, are "the true atheists."

Togliatti gave his essay on religion in an article in the party magazine Rinascita, answering a recent collective warning of Italian Catholic bishops against "atheistic Communism."

While the Catholics and Communists traded verbal blows, President Antonio Segni was completing political consultations and probably today will call on Christian Democratic party leader Aldo Moro to try to form a new government.

Moro is expected to ask the left-wing Socialists to join him in putting together a centre-left government to replace the stop-gap cabinet of Premier Giovanni Leone, which resigned earlier this week.

Porchlight Blitz Set for Dec. 2

Gunfight Nets Seven Counts

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seven charges, including armed robbery of an hotel and kidnapping, were laid Friday against a 23-year-old man booked as Harold Alex Horne.

Charges of armed robbery, kidnapping a taxi driver, forcibly confining the driver and assault with intent to resist arrest were laid after a holdup and a gun battle in Burnaby. Three other counts, arising out of a burglary, are possession of stolen goods, robbery of two men, and unlawfully discharging a firearm.

This year's annual Victoria Kiwanis porchlight blitz, to raise money for expansion of Kiwanis Village and Villa, will be Dec. 2.

About 1,800 volunteers will canvass for an hour beginning at 6:30 p.m.

W. J. Lyle, president of the Kiwanis Village Society, said last night a new wing for Kiwanis Villa is under consideration. He said there is an increasing need for low-rent accommodation for elderly people.

The Village and Villa will also benefit from a Kiwanis TV auction over Channel 6 Wednesday, when Victorians will be able to bid by phone for articles donated by Victoria businesses.

Court Parade

Impaired After Four Days

A four-day drinking bout ended with a charge of impaired driving against Ronald Quickfall, of Winnipeg, in city magistrate's court yesterday.

Quickfall was also charged with taking a motorcycle without the owner's consent and driving without a licence. He pleaded guilty to all three charges.

Court was told Quickfall was seen to fall from a motorcycle while waiting for a traffic light Thursday, and when a police constable approached him he pushed the bike toward the constable and ran south on Broad Street.

Another constable who had seen the incident stopped him with a tackle after a short chase.

He said he had been drinking beer, wine and rum for about four days.

Asked by Magistrate William Oatler if he had anything to say to the policeman, Quickfall shrugged and said, "I guess he's right."

He was remanded to Nov. 14 for a probation and psychiatric report.

Fines totalling $450 were imposed in city magistrate's court yesterday on an impaired driver who left the scene of an accident.

Benjamin Stymiest, of the CGS Oshawa, was fined $300 for impaired driving and $150 for leaving the scene of an accident.

Court was told Stymiest was involved in an accident with another car at Quadra and Cormorant early Friday, then drove south on Quadra, through a red light at Blanshard and View, and was stopped by city police at Blanshard and Fort.

About $700 damage was done to both cars in the accident.

Magistrate William Oatler suggested in city magistrate's court yesterday that a young girl convicted on charges of false pretences should get out of town and start a new life.

He said Sharon Anne McKenzie, 600 Admirals, who pleaded guilty to false pretences involving nearly $300 worth of bad cheques, must give some guarantee that she will change her habits if she is to receive a suspended sentence.

Magistrate Oatler noted that the girl had no previous criminal record, and remanded her to Nov. 13 for decision.

A 15-year-old youth who walked out of Brannan Lake Industrial school and stole a car Sept. 24 was remanded in city magistrate's court yesterday to today for probation report and sentence.

He pleaded guilty Monday to theft and escaping legal custody.

Robert Ronald Smith, charged with breaking and entering and theft in connection with a break-in at McGill and Orme, 1139 Yates, was remanded without plea to Nov. 15 in city magistrate's court yesterday in order to obtain legal counsel.

City Students Find Room For Mexicans

University of Victoria student council doesn't anticipate any problem in finding billets for its Mexican visitors, committee chairman Michael Hutchinson says.

Sufficient billets will be provided by students and professors from Mexico who will spend a month here, and there's no need for anyone outside the university to offer their homes, Mr. Hutchinson explained.

A number of people, under the impression the public is being called on for help, have phoned to offer billets.

Six Months To Repay $3,213 Aid

VANCOUVER (CP) — Patricia Hill, 29-year-old mother of four, Friday was given 6½ months to make good on a promise to repay $3,213 she obtained in city welfare by fraud.

Mrs. Hill pleaded guilty to obtaining the money by swearing she was not living with her husband and had no income. Court was told the woman was living with her husband and both were working.

"I'm giving you a chance to show good faith before you are sentenced," said Magistrate Gordon Scott.

No Negroes, Blue-Gray TV Cancelled

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Company said Friday the network had decided against televising the Blue and Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 28 after being advised Negro players could not participate.

A spokesman said the actor was decided upon after consultation with sponsors of the scheduled telecast-Glette Company and Chrysler Corporation.

The spokesman said the Blue and Gray Association informed NBC that Negro players would not be eligible to participate in the game.

CHRISTMAS

 OR more than two years, the Editors of LIFE have had their top echelon of artists, writers, researchers, and designers at work on this most exceptional work about Christmas. "The LIFE book of Christmas" is unlike anything you have ever seen.

You will see the story of Christmas retold through great religious paintings of the ages; see dozens of finely etched steel and wood engravings of picturesque Christmas scenes. Most of the art and photographs are in vivid full color. Each of the three volumes of "The LIFE Book of Christmas" is large. Pages are 9x12 inches. Each volume contains more than 100 pages, printed on fine paper to make pictures and text a joy to see and read. Bindings are in rich colors; titles are in gold to give each book a look and feel of elegance.

VOLUME ONE—The Story of Christmas

The story of Christ's birth as told in the King James Bible and as elaborated upon by centuries of devout painters, sculptors, stained glass artists, writers and poets, should heighten your appreciation of, and participation in Christmas by shedding new light on how the simple story has been embroidered and lovingly interpreted.

VOLUME TWO—The Pageantry of Christmas
Traces development of our Christmas traditions and customs. Follows religious and secular celebrations through the centuries. Introduction of the yule log, the boar's head. Art chosen to illustrate each chapter was done in the era the chapter talks about.

Gusts Soar Scores

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Arnold Palmer of the United States soared into the halfway lead in the 72-hole Wills Masters golf tournament despite a second-round 77 Friday.

All scores skyrocketed in blustery winds which reached gusts of 50 miles an hour. Palmer, who had a 68 Thursday, had a 36-hole total of 145, one stroke ahead of Australia's Kel Nagle, the first-round leader, who shot a 79 for 146.

Fast Finish Brings Tie

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald and Ray Floyd, both starting badly and finishing strongly, tied for the 36-hole lead Friday in the $50,000 Frank Sinatra invitational open golf tournament.

Each had a two-day score of 138, four under par.

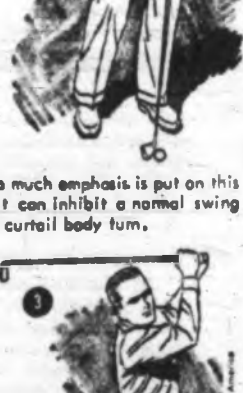

THE Arnold PALMER METHOD

'HEAD DOWN' IS NOT ALWAYS THE BEST ADVICE

Lives there a golfer who hasn't been given this bit of advice: "Keep your head down"? And yet, sometimes, this can be more of a hindrance than a help to your swing.

If too much emphasis is put on this point, it can inhibit a normal swing and curtail body turn.

A common effect can be seen in the first illustration. The golfer's hips have slid forward instead of correctly turning (2). This hip-slide often forces the hands away from the body resulting in a topped or shanked shot. I advise you to swing freely and complete your hip turn by allowing your head to turn upward as the club moves up on the follow-through (3).

Handy tips for all beginners. The pamphlet's yours for 10¢ and stamped, return envelope sent to Arnold Palmer, c/o this newspaper. 9-20

More Canadians to Hear About Wildlife Problems

OTTAWA (CP)—If Richard Passmore has his way, and he probably will, Canadians are going to hear a great deal more about wildlife in the future.

One of the things he would like to do is get more punch into National Wildlife Week, now observed every year during April without too much nationwide excitement.

In his new job as executive director of the Canadian Wildlife Federation, Mr. Passmore is in a good spot to accomplish his goals. His position is akin to that of a teacher—all Canadians his pupils and all outdoors his subject.

"We want to keep Canadians educated generally about wildlife and conservation," said Mr. Passmore. "It's important that people be informed of problems needing support and attention."

ONLY EMPLOYEE

So far he is the only full-time employee of the federation that was formed last year and now is preparing for its first annual meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Passmore, a long-time official of the Ontario department of lands and forests and a former supervisor of game management for the province, came to the federation in June. From his modest one-room headquarters he is busy building a foundation for what he hopes will be a vital, national organization.

FROM COUNCIL

The federation, its foundations laid by the co-operative venture of various provincial federations, received its initial funds from the federal government through the National Fitness Council. Various industries concerned with outdoor activities will be canvassed for further support.

At the first annual meeting, to be attended by 26 provincial directors, Mr. Passmore is preparing to bring out such problems as pesticide hazards, the question of giving National Wildlife Week more punch, the possibility of establishing a federal waterfowl licence, and the effects of a proposed Alaska dam on northern wildlife.

GROUNDS FLOODED

He says that if the state of Alaska carries through a proposal to dam the Yukon River within its borders it would mean the end of breeding grounds for 1,500,000 waterfowl. It also could end the salmon run through the Yukon end of the river.

If the federal government were to establish a waterfowl licence, he says, it would mean that for the first time it would be possible to establish the number and kinds of waterfowl shot by hunters. With the various systems being maintained by the provinces, it was impossible to arrive at accurate estimates.

The money raised through the sale of these licences could be used for waterfowl research and conservation.

New coach of Canada's Olympic Games track and field team is Saskatoon school teacher Bob Adams, former Canadian decathlon champ and 1952 Olympic competitor. He beat out Lloyd Swindells of Vancouver in CAAU voting.

Track Chairman Cracks Mould

WINNIPEG (CP)—Pete Beach of Toronto has officially taken over as chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada's track and field committee succeeding Ken Twigg, also of Toronto.

Blunt and outspoken, Beach Friday opened his term by a flat refusal to accept or stand for the traditional post of Olympic track team manager held by track and field committee chairmen.

He said he feels the main task of a national chairman is to look after affairs in Canada rather than spend a month in the winter and a month in the summer out of the country.

His decision leaves open the post of team manager, which delegates to the association's annual meeting had assumed would automatically be his.

Wins Prize

WINNIPEG (UPI)—A 27-year-old gymnast from Camp Borden, Ont., was named Canada's outstanding amateur male athlete at the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada awards banquet today.

Wilhelm Wen, fought off a tough challenge from another Ontario athlete—Bill Crothers of Agincourt—to win the Norton Crow trophy.

Wen and Crothers also received AAU nomination for the Lou Marsh trophy presented to the outstanding amateur or professional—male or female—athlete.

Another Ontario youngster, 18-year-old Nancy McCredie of Brampton, won the Velma Springfield memorial trophy as Canada's outstanding woman athlete.

Army Makes Eyes At Gaseous Cassius

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cassius Clay, already signed for a world heavyweight title fight with Sonny Liston, has been ordered to report for a selective service physical examination Nov. 21.

If he passes, Clay could be called into service late in December but his backers already have said they will seek a four-to-six months' deferment.

Hendry Back At Old Stand

By JIM TAYLOR

Wayne Hendry, who said goodbye to fivepins and Victoria bowling a few weeks ago, is back at the old stand at Gibson's Bowladrome today.

Hendry has been named assistant manager, and started his new position this week.

One of the better fivepin bowlers in the area has carried a 254 average. Hendry had left Gibson's planning to join the staff of a Vancouver tenpin house.

Capital City Lanes will hold a 20-game fivepin marathon Sunday at 10 a.m. Entry fee is $12, handicap 70 per cent on 260 scratch, limit 700 pins.

Gibson's has scheduled a fivepin tournament Nov. 24 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. First prize is sponsorship in the 50-game marathon at Lougheed Lanes Dec. 21.

Greater Victoria bowlers had a cool, cool week on the lanes, with only a few exceptional scores in either fivepins or tenpins.

The Leaders:

FIVEPINS

TENPINS
Surrey Lanes—Lee White 834 (234), Gerry Chisholm 808 (241, 241), Mike Wagonier 841 (238, 202), Charlie Corrie 862 (232, 202), and 344, Len Duncan 377 (232), Tom O'Brien 372, Joe Richards 371, King 341, Roy Jago 362, Nicky Reid 369 (224), Rudy Chiles 361, Val Ingram 341 (217), Ladies—Jany Hunter 370 (310), Lorna Pollock 331, Ann Goodman 315, Lily Hughes 315.

Cricketers Face Racial Picketers

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—Eleven men and a girl picketed the South African touring cricket team's motel here Wednesday night carrying anti-segregation signs. A spokesman said they were not demonstrating against the South African cricketers but against the refusal of the South African government to allow non-white sportsmen to represent South Africa.

Eric Turner Heads Club

Eric Turner has been elected president of Victoria Lawn Bowling Club.

Other officers elected at the recent general meeting were: L. E. Price, vice-president; J. Galbraith, treasurer; A. Raines, secretary; executive committee: W. J. Cole, D. C. M. Davies, P. Gibbons, H. C. Harris, D. Miller and M. Yule. Trophies won during the season were presented by Mr. Turner. The winners:

Garden Notes

It's Vegetable Time!

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

As far as the vegetable plot is concerned, the real start of the gardener's year is in the fall, not the spring. If your bit of ground is to be utilized to best advantage, it is essential to form some idea now as to what vegetables you intend to grow next year, and where you intend to grow them.

You see, this is the time to get the plot dug over, and digging means an opportunity for incorporating manure or compost in the soil. And such scarce and valuable commodities shouldn't be spread haphazardly, but placed where they will do the most good. Moreover, many of our vegetables need firm soil; their sites should be prepared in the fall to give the ground plenty of time to settle.

The hungriest plant in the vegetable plot is the onion. Onions are gross feeders, and the richest, mellowest manure should be reserved for the onion rows. But onions never amount to a pinch of coon feathers on loose, fluffy soil — it must be firm and well consolidated — hence the need for early preparation of the onion bed.

The same holds for the ground where next year's summer and autumn cabbages and sprouts are to grow. These will need manure — not as much as the onions — and early preparation of the ground is essential for hard, well-formed heads and buttons.

No manure at all should be used on sites where plants are to stand all winter. Spring cabbage, late sprouts, broad beans and the like would make too much soft, sappy growth to stand up under hard winter weather. What is wanted here is short, stocky growth.

In planning out just where each kind of vegetable is to grow next year, remember that the preferred position for carrots, beets and parsnips is ground which received a dressing of manure the previous year. The root vegetables need a fairly rich and deeply dug soil, but fresh manure or recent manuring is poison to them, causing forked and distorted roots. The rows where peas and beans were grown this past season will usually produce good root crops without any additional manuring.

If you are pressed for time and can't get the whole vegetable plot dug over this fall, the part to leave is the potato patch. Potatoes have no objection to loose, recently-dug soil, nor do they mind fresh dressings of rotted or half-rotted manure, so it is quite safe to leave the preparation of the potato patch until spring. In fact, it is quite possible to dig, manure, and plant all in one operation.

Application of lime, too, should be made in accordance with the kind of vegetables to be grown. The heaviest dressing — about two cupfuls per square yard — should go to the rows earmarked for the leafy vegetables — lettuce, cabbage, sprouts, celery, spinach — and to the peas and beans and broad beans. One cupful per square yard is enough for the root vegetables and the site for your tomato plants, while none at all should be given the potato patch.

Recently limed land usually produces a crop of scabby potatoes. While potatoes need lime for a good yield and healthy growth, the residue from the liming of the previous year should be enough to satisfy the potato's calcium needs.

JOHN CROSBY Finds

Home Uncommon Commoner

CRIEFF, Scotland—"I put all the emphasis on the modernization of Britain," declared the recently unbelated earl, now simple Sir Alec Douglas Home, trying on his wings as a commoner in a by-election deep in the Scottish Highlands.

The rain pelted down on the lairds and their ladies and their children and their dogs standing on a golf course as the prime minister spoke of modernizing Britain.

Douglas-Home

Sir Alec, a most uncommon and recent commoner, is about as representative of modern man as Beowulf, and he was standing for Kinross and West Perthshire, in an area that has not emerged very far from the Middle Ages.

As we chased after Sir Alec through the misty glens dotted with sheep, up the black lochs, we passed superb stone manor houses full of tweedy Scottish gentleness and still staffed by servants and retainers who are, if anything, even more conservative than the lairds and ladies they wait upon. The district has been Conservative since 1923.

Sir Alec pelted through the unvarying rain, shaking hands with the crofters, patting the heads of little children with his frosty but tremendous charm, talking about sports, or the weather, or agriculture, or the beauty of the turning leaves.

"I have a hill farm much like yours," he'd say, equating his 50,000 acres of highlands with the farmer's four. (The hill farmers are deserting the highlands in droves because they can't scratch a living out of the soil and the Conservatives have cut their subsidies.)

a sad-faced, immensely respected local laird, would be grief-stricken to be uprooted from his beloved hill farm and sent to Westminster. Fortunately, he won't be.

Sir Alec was running in a local contest on local issues which he only dimly understands. For instance, Green Stamps (the American variety and the same company) have been introduced here by the chain stores and are driving the small tradesmen to the wall. A reporter asked Sir Alec, "Have you any views about trading stamps?"

"No," said Sir Alec, the bony face creased with wonder that he should be asked such a thing. "No, I don't think I have any views on that." Someone must have got to him later with the suggestion that this was a matter of some local importance. The next time the question was asked, he said he still didn't have any views but he'd get some.

That night we drove through the unimaginably empty and ghostly and scary Scottish hills, through driving rain, seeing the world through what I think of as the Alfred Hitchcock Windshield-Wiper Shot (expecting any moment a ghostly figure to rise up and flag us down), toward the fantastically remote village of Enoch Dru, passing nary a house nor a human nor even a sheep on the black, rainswept roads.

In the little village hall, the local Laird Balfour shepherded his flock to their seats personally. I asked him how many of the voters were there. "All of them," he said, "all 70. Very rarely do we have such a privilege."

Then he introduced Sir Alec: "I must remind you he is appearing as your candidate, not as prime minister." But it was as prime minister that Sir Alec spoke in his confident voice, ringing with authority.

"Once nuclear war breaks out, it will be impossible for the highlands to escape it. Nuclear dust knows no frontier."

But after his talk about nuclear deterrence, the Berlin corridor, the modernizing of Britain — all vast subjects — the first question from the audience was: "Have ye any comms to ma' aboo winter keep?" Winter keep is a sort of subsidy to provide forage for the animals in winter. "I'm not going to make any promises about that," said the prime minister. He spoke of the role of the individual in this automated world, one of his favorite topics.

At another meeting at Pitlochry he got the salty taste of individuality. "I think this is very unfair to the electorate," said a Scotswoman, her voice shrill with outrage. "We are told, if we don't vote for you, we'll bring down the whole government. Don't you see how difficult this makes things for the electorate?"

For every Scot who is thrilled that a prime minister should be a candidate in these remote glens, there's another who bitterly resented the fact that the prime minister should thrust aside a local man.

The next day Sir Alec was on his knees setting a match to a bonfire laid by children for Guy Fawkes Day. Earlier he'd consented most graciously to an interview from a 10-year-old girl for her school newspaper.

"The Conservatives," observed a spokesman for the Liberals sardonically, "are exhibiting the same pattern of behavior they've shown all year. They'll go to any lengths to hang onto power."

In the corner of a local bar, a Daily Express reporter with long flowing hair looked up from his copy which he was writing out in long-hand in flowing script. "You're not writing seriously about this farce?" he growled at me.

I hope they don't modernize him. In fact, there's lots of things — the glens, the sheep, the outraged Scots lady, even Sir Alec — that I'd just as soon were not modernized at all.

Sheilah Graham's Little World

Kildare Cued for College Caper

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — It's Joy in the Morning for Richard (Dr. Kildare) Chamberlain. The story, based on the best seller, is about two young people who are married in their senior year in college. And the girl the producers want to go to school with the popular Richard is the almost as popular Elizabeth Ashley. They will have to wait a year for Liz. That's how long her contract is for Barefoot in the Park.

More fascinating Night of the Iguana news. If Elizabeth Taylor really did buy her Dickie Boy Burton that home in Mexico, it barely made a dent in her pocket book. You can buy a four-bedroom house in that locality for $5,000, which is more rooms than they need. The film will end in mid-December barring complications. The lovers plan to spend Christmas there, then Liz will rejoin with her 17 pieces of baggage at the Beverly Hills Hotel here. Of course Richard cannot be described as baggage. But he will probably come along unless he prefers to see his children in New York.

In Marty Poll's new version of Wuthering Heights Richard Harris plays the part Laurence Olivier made famous for all time. Both Natalie Wood and Audrey Hepburn saw Harris in This Sporting Life, and both gals are mad to make a picture with this virile type. I'm not sure either would be right for the role of the sweet and tempestuous Cathy which Merle Oberon played in the original.

Sir Alec Guinness who won an Oscar for his British officer in Bridge on the River Kwai, says he never really believed in the character he played. It's different, says Sir Alec, with Dylan, due soon on Broadway. In this drama, he portrays the colorful tragic Welsh poet. I hear that the script is an actor's dream.

All the girls are after Albert Finney, but it seems that Samantha Eggers has him back. She may be losing him to Stella Stevens when the lovely blonde goes to New York this month. Stella and Albert met in London last year, and the spark was mutual.

Debbie Reynolds and director Chuck Walters have been long-time buddies, which is why I find it hard to believe reports they are having some arguments with their Unsinkable Molly Brown. Tab Hunter's luck changed. He landed Tailfinch Bankhead in The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore in the David Merrick revival after he changed agents.

The Beverly Wilshire Hotel is quiet and serene again. Madame Nhu brought a lot of glamour to the popular hotel, but also a lot of headaches. It was strange, the overnight change in her fortunes.

Vancouver Festival Seeks French Art

Vancouver International Festival may not get the Mona Lisa, but its pretty certain that 20 or 30 French Impressionist paintings will be on show during the French-theme festival next year.

Earlier this year it was suggested that the VIF was hoping to have the Mona Lisa, but a festival spokesman told the Colonist this was just an example of the sort of thing that was wanted and the masterpiece wasn't seriously considered.

Negotiations between the VIF and the French government are now being carried out for the Impressionist paintings.

Guild Cast Wins

Deadly Game Worth Playing

By BERT BINNY

The Deadly Game, second Victoria Theatre Guild production of the current season, opened Thursday night before a small audience at the Langham Court Theatre.

The play itself has a quite tedious and wordy first act and finishes with the very briefest of scenes open to any number of interpretations, but it has a tremendous midsection.

PECULIAR TASK

Thus the peculiar task of any cast is to render the whole performance worthwhile solely on the merits of Act II.

The performances of Robert Price as Howard Trapp, John Dren as Gustave Kummer and Ken Bostock as Bernard Laroque were stellar.

Whenever the script provided them with opportunity to shine, they did and brilliantly. They made the trial scene highly impressive. Above all—and for the guidance of anyone contemplating a visit to the play during the rest of its run—they made that midsection worth waiting for.

Bruce Barnard as Emile Carpeau was suitably suave and dignified but, last night anyway, he had trouble with lines which was all the more unfortunate seeing that the character he played was one who would never be at loss for the right word.

FINE SUPPORT

Louis Rees as Joseph, Gen Hewlett as Pierre and Barbara Grant as a Visitor were all fine in the supporting roles.

Much credit goes to Bert Furr, the director. Movement and business were always excellent and his positioning so as to achieve a focus on the most important characters was a joy to contemplate.

The Deadly Game runs tonight and tomorrow as well as Nov. 13 to 16.

No Strippers

Hostesses, often unpaid in London nightclubs, decided yesterday to join union and announced through chief shop steward Daphne Taylor, above, to ask giant Trades Union Council for recognition. Chorus girls will be allowed to join, said Daphne, but strippers are not wanted.

Bartenders, Legion Sign Pact

Transit systems and Legion bartenders were among points discussed when the Victoria Labor Council met this week.

The council:

• Endorsed the action of the Victoria Building Trades Council in censuring B.C. Hydro plans to hand over city transit systems to the municipalities concerned.

COUNCIL PLANNED

• Learned the Pro Patria Branch is the first Royal Canadian Legion branch in Victoria to sign a contract with Local 513, the Beverage Dispensers Union (CLC) and that the union will begin a training course for bartenders Nov. 18 under federal-provincial technical training grants.

• Voted to begin nominating next year's officers at the last meeting in December and to cancel the first meeting in January, which would have fallen on New Year's Day.

Legion Sets March Time

Members of the Pro Patria branch of the Royal Canadian Legion will fall in at 10:15 a.m. Monday at Humboldt and Government Streets for the march to the Cenotaph.

They will wear service medals and poppies, and will be under the command of Brig. J. S. Adams. They will march behind the band of HMCS Naden.

The service at the Cenotaph will be conducted by Rev. Charles D. Blencoe, retired RAF wing commander.

Two-Day Alumni Ball?

Possibility of the University of Victoria alumni ball being a two-day affair in future might be considered by future committees but it isn't a practical answer to the sellout problem.

A total of 325 couples applied for tickets but only 170 couples can be accommodated in the Empress Ballroom, said ball committee chairman David Edgar, and the only solution is for people to buy their tickets early.

Originally the Nov. 15 event was planned for 150 couples but the number was increased when the great demand for tickets became apparent.

Mr. Edgar felt it wouldn't be right to hold the ball in the university gym or somewhere like the Arena where more people could be accommodated because the Empress facilities were desirable, for the type of ball the committee wants.

He thought future committees might consider a two-day ball, but didn't think it practical.

Hunt to Continue For Nazi Treasure

BAD AUSSEE, Austria (UPI)—The government has decided to continue searching the bottom of Lake Toplitz for possible Nazi treasures despite the high cost of the project—$165,000 so far this year.

German army officers reportedly dumped documents and treasures into the lake at the end of the Second World War.

Lawyer's Widow Dies at 81

A member of a prominent Victoria family, Mrs. Lillian Heisterman, 81, died yesterday in Royal Jubilee Hospital. Funeral services will be held in Hayward's at 3:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Heisterman was the widow of Henry G. S. Heisterman, prominent Victoria lawyer who died in 1946, and the daughter of W. F. Salisbury, who died at 91 in 1938 after being local treasurer in Vancouver of the CPR from 1887 until he retired to Gordon Head in 1921.

Mrs. Heisterman was born in Lachine, Que., in 1882 and came here in 1903. She had been in Victoria ever since and in recent years lived at the Dorchester Apartments, Beach Drive.

Mrs. Heisterman was an active member of St. Mary's Anglican Church and was active with the Red Cross in both world wars and with the Royal Jubilee Hospital Auxiliary.

University Plan Fine Idea—But

Proposal to build university facilities at a cost of $1,125,000, using $450,000 in Greater Victoria centennial grants hasn't got the wholehearted support of municipal leaders, but all admit it's a good idea.

Judge J. B. Clearhue, chancellor of the University of Victoria, submitted the plan to representatives of district municipalities Thursday evening.

$450,000 GRANTS

The plan involves use of the federal centennial per capita grant, expected to be $130,000 plus similar per capita grants from the province and municipalities.

The university could borrow the other 60 per cent of the $1,125,000 required for two residences plus dining facilities, and the students, paying $85 a month for room and board, would pay back the loan in 50 years.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, who is also a member of the university board of governors, found it hard to comment on the plan.

He said that he thought the idea had great merit but would require a great deal of study and that the whole community, not just elected representatives, should have a voice through a committee which, he understood, would be set up.

'SOS' Set For Space

GENEVA (UPI) — The international space conference has set up an "SOS" radio frequency for spacemen in distress.

It is 20,007 kilocycles, and came after a Soviet request for action on "traffic rules" for space.

at the request of the provincial government to study such projects.

Reeve A. C. Wurtelle of Esquimalt pointed out municipalities have in the past contributed to the university, which is very worthy, but he added a committee would have to be set up to study centennial projects.

He said he has suggested development of the Gorge as an area project and other municipalities seemed to agree.

Reeve Stanley Murphy of Saanich said "the idea has merit... all funds should go into one major project instead of being dissipated in smaller projects... but there will be other projects to be considered."

Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch favored the plan. He felt it would benefit the economy of Victoria as a whole.

Bandit Escapes With $2,700

VANCOUVER (CP) — A drugstore clerk taking receipts to the bank was knocked down Friday and robbed of $2,700.

She said a tall man accosted her, grabbed her paper bag, and hit her.

"He knocked me down and I screamed," said Mrs. Ella Christie. "Then he ran into a lane and seemed to disappear."

Most of the money came from hydro and telephone bill payments.

Wedge to Reach Unreached Role of Crusader for Christ

A wedge designed to breach the walls around the "unreached" so the church might enter is Barry Moore's description of the Crusade for Christ now being launched in Victoria.

LEAD BACK

He feels only 20 to 25 per cent of Canada's population attends church regularly and his object is to lead others back to their churches or to a church if they are not already affiliated.

The crusade here includes public services every night for a week starting Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Central Junior High School auditorium and at 8 p.m. other nights.

There will be daily prayer meetings and a children's crusade in the Central Junior High School at 10 a.m. today.

The Crusade always sets up a local committee in advance which sets a budget, in this case $3,500, for travelling, meals and other team expenses. Offerings are taken at meetings, but once this amount is reached, no more collections are taken. Two more offerings are asked, for the Crusade's headquarters for maintenance of the organization.

No offerings go directly to Mr. Moore, a Baptist, who is paid a regular salary equivalent to that earned by a Victoria minister.

The evangelist association was set up in 1960 when Mr. Moore gave up his teaching job in Ontario to work full time on Youth for Christ. He met James Blackwood and the two started the Crusade, of which Mr. Blackwood is executive director.

Airlines have played a fairly big part in the life of Kostas Trikeriotis, 34, of 1034 Burdett. In 1937, Mr. Trikeriotis, who had come to Canada from Greece some two years earlier, met his future wife in an airport after his arrival from Greece.

Last Wednesday he was in the TCA jet that crashed into a cabbage patch on takeoff from London, England.

And it was aircraft of the same line that flew him home, after the accident, to his wife and two daughters, Angela, 5, and Tina, 3. He arrived in Victoria yesterday morning. Mr. Trikeriotis said last night that he does not feel too shaken up after the accident. "It's a lot better than last Wednesday, anyway. But when I think about it..."

He didn't feel any differently about the planes that brought him home after the accident than he had about flying in aircraft before, he said. "It was just the same—same airline."

Mr. Trikeriotis, who was not seriously injured in the accident, in which no one was killed, said he got out of the plane fairly quickly after it crashed.

"I was not one of the first out. My seat was far away from the door. I can't remember how I got out." He completely lost one suitcase in the wreckage. It contained mostly presents he had picked up in Greece, "Christmas presents, for the wife and kids, you know."

During his trip, he said, he met his mother-in-law and other relatives of his wife for the first time, he said. He said he expects to return to his job as a chef at the Crest Motel in a week or so.

Oil Land Dispute

Family Sues U.S. For $15,000,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The last $15,000,000 from the federal Fairbank family of Petrolia, government for California oil land bought in 1909.

Washington attorney F. Hamilton Seeley urged the judges to decide in favor of the heirs of Charles O. Fairbank, who bought the land from California for $1.25 an acre. It is now part of the U.S. Navy's petroleum reserve No. 1 at Elk Hills.

'KNOWN MINERAL'
The Fairbanks lost the land in 1935, when Interior Secretary Harold I. Ickes ruled the 159-acre-in-question "known mineral land" in 1909 and belonged to the federal government.

Seeley said the question of whether the land was mineral should be tested by "what was actually known by the people in the area at the time."

Movies, Tape Recordings For Impaired Drivers?

VANCOUVER (CP)—The city prosecutor has asked the police department to take movies and tape recordings of persons arrested on impaired driving charges.

Stewart McMorran said Friday he asked the movies and recordings be taken of the third floor of the jail where drivers are given breathalyzer and physical tests. He said he wants to study the complete sound and visual record thus taken to see if it can be used as evidence in court.

Deputy Police Chief Gordon Ambrose said the department is studying the request. Police said a few cities in the U.S. use such a system.

Civic Model On Display

The model of Centennial Square and a companion color slide show went on display Friday in a Mallick block store window right on the four-acre site of the $3,000,000 civic project. It will remain there for three weeks.

Hotel Fire Probed

Fire which was discovered in a garbage disposal room at the Westholme Hotel, 1417 Government, was snuffed out almost immediately by a hotel employee last night.

The fire started in a cardboard box on the second floor of the hotel and was discovered by a guest who alerted desk clerk David Shaw. He put the fire out with an extinguisher.

Firemen were investigating the cause of the blaze last night.

A fire department official said there had been several similar incidents during recent months.

A hotel spokesman said last night the fire could have been started by a cigarette being dropped into the disposal room.

Aldermanic Contest Virtually Assured

An aldermanic contest appears assured in the 12 civic elections in Victoria.

It is likely, however, that Mayor R. B. Wilson will be returned by acclamation for a second two-year term.

Robert Baird, 57-year-old investment counsellor, yesterday announced his intention of seeking a council seat. He has tried twice before without success, polling only 300 votes less

Annual Banquet Slated Tonight

Annual banquet of the Therapeutic Club will be held at 7 p.m. today at the Moose Hall, 512 Fort, with Skipper Emerson Smith in the chair. Capt. George A. Veres will be guest speaker.

Colonist reporter Don Gain leaves today by RCAF plane for Germany and France where he will spend the next three or four weeks with Canada's military personnel overseas.

He will arrive in Germany Wednesday and spend some time with the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry recently posted from Victoria to Fort MacLeod near Düsseldorf.

In Europe he will also visit RCAF stations in Germany, France and Britain and send back stories on military life with the NATO forces.

Mr. Gain will board a plane for Germany Tuesday in Trenton along with men of the Princess Patricia's who are in the process of being airlifted by the RCAF to their German base.

Plans Forming at City Hall

More Beauty Downtown Next Year

By IAN STREET

Plans are being made at city hall for launching a stepped-up downtown beautification program for Victoria early in 1964.

Ald. A. W. Toone said yesterday studies in progress will determine how much extra money and manpower will be required to get it underway.

An informal meeting was held in the office of Mayor R. B. Wilson Wednesday. The mayor and Ald. Toone discussed the subject of downtown beautification thoroughly with civic officials.

An upshot of the meeting will be a full report on the situation within two weeks by city manager Dennis Young.

It was agreed at the meeting, said Ald. Toone, that nothing could be achieved without "admitting the cost factor."

There is also the matter of work load being carried by the city planning department, which would have to draw up an overall beautification plan, and consideration is being given to an increase in staff.

"We'll be doing more planning this time and providing more leadership," said Ald. Toone, who heads the city council committee that handles downtown beautification.

"It will also be necessary to turn to more public figures for support. We can go only so far in spending public money."

"In carrying out the paint-up program for downtown buildings on a color-coordinated plan the actual job will have to be paid for by the property owners."

A pilot paint-up project has actually been carried out on three adjoining buildings on Government Street but the follow-up which was to take in a further two blocks nearby has stalled, mainly for lack of support from property owners.

Ald. Toone said he is optimistic of success in the new program, which will include plans for rehabilitation of Bastion Square. There is some concern in city hall over news the former Board of Trade building, opposite the old courthouse, has been put up for sale at $35,000.

"This building is important to the city as part of the historical area surrounding Bastion Square and therefore we have an interest in what happens to it," said Ald. Toone.

"There is a greater awareness of the need to make the city more attractive. It's actually no more important now than it was a year ago—but the need is more apparent. We simply cannot afford to let the downtown area slide into a state of decay."

Hellyer Tells Victoria

New Ship Program Means More Work

By DON GAIN

Talks Halted

Shipyard Dispute Unsettled

An arbitration attempt in a dispute between the Boilermakers Union and Yarrow's Limited appears to have been frustrated.

It was reported last night that a lawyer has advised the board there would be no point in continuing arbitration hearings, since a third party is involved and the courts could therefore overrule the arbitration board's findings.

BOARD ADJOURNS

James McConachy, business manager of International Boilermakers Lodge 191, would only say, however, that the arbitration board has adjourned temporarily.

The work jurisdictional dispute involved sparked a wildcat walkout Oct. 10 at Yarrow's shipbuilding yard by 262 boilermakers. They claimed shipwrights had taken over work traditionally done by boilermakers.

The government's present $160,000,000 combined shipbuilding program will provide more man-hours' work than the cancelled $452,000,000 navy frigate program, Defence Minister Hellyer told a press conference at Royal Roads yesterday.

West Coast shipyards will get orders under the plans if their prices are competitive, he said. The press conference was held after the eighth annual meeting of the Canadian Services Colleges Advisory Board.

NOT OUTSIDE

The frigate program would have forced purchase of equipment outside Canada. Mr. Hellyer said, where this does not apply to the present plan to build research and department of transport vessels.

Canada's defence policy is being carefully worked out in a comprehensive review, the first time in a number of years, he said.

BY NEW YEAR

"A white paper will be presented to the government by the New Year on a 10-year program dealing with the length of service of various weapons systems."

Mr. Hellyer said a group in his department would be given the specific job of carrying out the review, with both military and civilian representatives, and the chief of operational research as head.

FLEXIBILITY

"We are looking for flexibility and mobility" in our armed forces, he said, "and operational capability."

Mr. Hellyer said the services colleges meeting was highly useful, a "frank exchange of opinions on such things as libraries, salary levels, facilities and relieving costs."

ON ALL MATTERS

The board advises and makes recommendations to the minister, who is president of the colleges, on all matters. At the meeting were Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, Lt.-Gen. Geoffrey Walsh, Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap and other service and government officials, businessmen and educationists from all provinces.

'If' Added For Subs

Submarines will be built in Canada if they become a part of the government's defence policy, Defence Minister Hellyer told a press conference here yesterday.

The purchase of three Oberon class submarines from Britain was "part of a production-sharing agreement by the previous government," he said, and the present government is in accord with it.

But future orders for submarines will be filled in Canada, he said.

Colleges Stay

Royal Roads and other service colleges will not be closed, Defence Minister Hellyer said yesterday.

"The Glasco Report did not fairly compare these institutions with civil colleges in the opinion of the advisory board (which met yesterday)," he said. "They are not only efficiently administered but they are doing a good job."

Roy, Mount Newton Crossroad. Mr. Roy is seen being helped from car. Driver of the truck was identified by police as Richard Nicholson.—(Ryan Bros.)

Barbers in Favor Of Optional Closing

Local 372 of the barbers' union has urged city council not to act on a petition requesting a change in closing days from Wednesday to Monday.

City finance committee, which received the petition Thursday, has recommended that city council rescind the barber shop bylaw and allow barbers to regulate themselves.

The union said in a letter received at city hall Friday that the petition "does not have the blessing of the local union" and therefore it asked council "not to act on it."

Local 372 of the barbers' union has urged city council not to act on a petition requesting a change in closing days from Wednesday to Monday.

City finance committee, which received the petition Thursday, has recommended that city council rescind the barber shop bylaw and allow barbers to regulate themselves.

The union said in a letter received at city hall Friday that the petition "does not have the blessing of the local union" and therefore it asked council "not to act on it."

Stephenson, "the question of Monday or Wednesday closing was discussed and on a standing vote—26 were in favor of (keeping) Wednesday and 22 were against."

"The second motion for closing on any weekday at the option of the individual barber passed with only one dissenting vote."

On instructions of local membership services of a lawyer have been retained to advise in drawing up an amendment to the Municipal Act to allow optional closing days.

The Vancouver local of the Barbers Association of B.C. have been approached in an attempt to win support of all barbers in the province for the proposed amendment.

Mr. Stephenson assured city council that if the amendment goes through "we will be able to present to you a petition which would have the support of 100 per cent of the barbers of Victoria."

The petition received earlier showed 27 out of 52 local barbers favored a change from Wednesday to Monday closing.

City hall officials checked licences issued and declared there were 33 barbers qualified, giving the petition a majority of one, but they were informed yesterday that one of the licensed barbers had recently died.

Victoria Popular

Army Pleased With Posting

Greater Victoria is gaining an international reputation as a friendly area for armed forces personnel, and at least one unit—the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada—plans to reciprocate.

The battalion arrives at Work Point Barracks in December and January after a three-year tour in Germany.

Its second-in-command, Major Kenneth Webber, said yesterday Victoria is widely known in army circles as "the best place in Canada" to be posted.

LOOKING FORWARD

Major Webber said most of the men are looking forward to their arrival and residence here, in view of the reputation the area enjoys.

He admitted in some areas the civilian-military relationship is not as friendly as it might be "but I'm sure we are going to like it here."

ACTIVE PARTICIPATION

The unit has already made plans to enter hockey, volleyball and soccer teams in local leagues, and army personnel plans to integrate in civilian organizations as well, Major Webber says.

For several of the men their arrival will be like a homecoming. Many of them served with the regiment's second battalion, which was stationed at Gordon Head until 1957.

RELATIVES HERE

Some of the soldiers—including the adjutant, Capt. D. J. Benford—married Victoria girls and have relatives and friends here.

Major Webber said he was impressed with community response to an appeal for married accommodations for the unit.

Pretty Kay McKenzie was the apple of everyone's eye at the Women's International Zionist Organization fashion show in Melbourne, Australia. She used the apple dress to show off a new hairdo and the "rosy cheek" look.—(Fednews)

Qualicum Residents Move Here

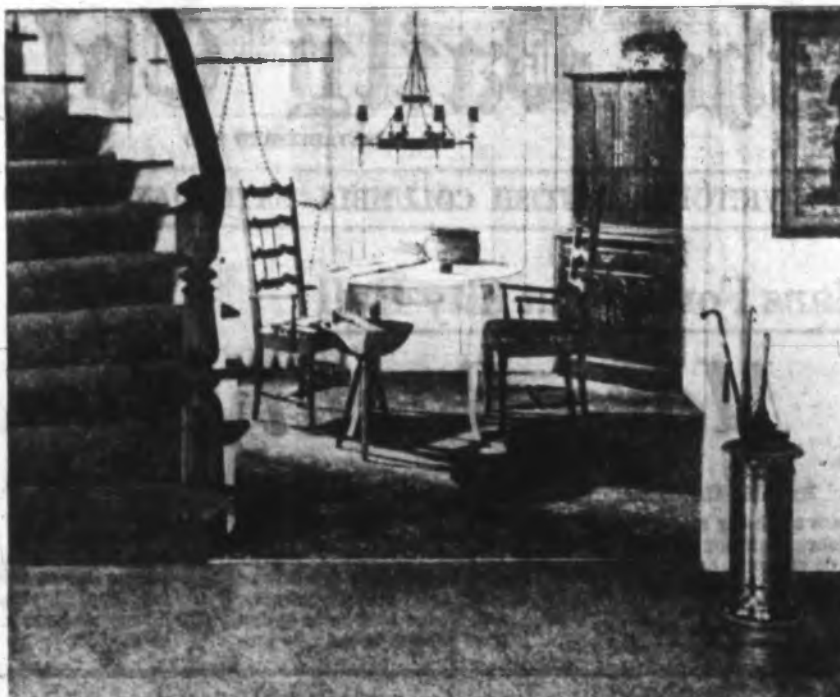

QUALICUM BEACH—Mr. and Mrs. Phil Eggersman, well-known Qualicum Beach business couple, left recently to take up residence in Victoria.

Mrs. Eggersman has operated a beauty shop here since 1929, while he opened a regular shop in 1934.

A charter member of the Qualicum Beach Rotary Club and twice its president, Mr. Eggersman was active in many community affairs. He was a member of the Qualicum Beach Chamber of Commerce, of which he was also president for two years, and spent 14 years as a member of the District No. 69 (Qualicum) school board. He was also on the board of the Nanaimo Regional Hospital for five years.

ST. DAVID'S

Women's Guild, St. David's Church-by-the-Sea, will meet at the home of Mrs. B. Tanner, 4979 Cordova Bay Road, Nov. 12 at 2:30 p.m. Plans for the annual pre-Christmas bazaar will be completed. It has been decided to hold the fete on Dec. 1 instead of Nov. 30 as formerly announced, as the Gray Cup game being held in Vancouver falls on the 30th.

There are colorful floor coverings to suit every decorating taste. It isn't necessary to limit your choice to one. In this room the patterned dining room rug is in vivid red, set against cooling white walls and paneling. Stairs aren't exactly match other floors. Here, the solid-toned red stair carpet is heavy-duty to withstand wear. Practical hard-surface cork flooring covers the busy hall. This large area of color should come in for an early and important part in your color scheme plans. Bold floor colors are best against more subdued backgrounds; the monadic neutrals allow considerable flexibility and provide a quiet background for more dramatic colors in other furnishings.

Apples, Dates Go Together For Dessert

For a delightful cold weather dessert try Apple Date Betty. Sweet and tangy flavors set off each other, with delicate spicing as an accent.

For about six servings, combine 3 cups soft, day-old bread crumbs, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pitted dates, 4 cups pared, cored and sliced apples (about 5 or 6 medium apples). Blend together 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup liquid honey, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon finely grated lemon rind, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon ginger and 2 tablespoons water.

Grease a 6-cup covered casserole. Half fill with apple mixture; pour half of liquid-spice mixture on top. Repeat with rest of apple and liquid mixtures. Cover dish. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes or until apples are tender. Uncover; bake another 10 or 15 minutes or until top is browned. Serve warm with milk, cream, ice cream or lemon or butterscotch sauce.

BELMONT UNITED

Belmont United Church Women will hold their annual bazaar Saturday, Nov. 16, from 2 to 4 p.m., in the church hall. Aprons, novelties, plants, superfluties and home-cooking will be sold. Afternoon tea will be served.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a recent graduate of New York University who was elected to the society of Phi Beta Kappa. Last evening I attended a wedding shower for a friend and I wore my Phi Beta Kappa key on a chain around my neck. One of the girls took me off to the side and told me it was ostentatious to wear the key around my neck. She said it belonged on a charm bracelet.

My first reaction to her criticism was resentment. I decided she was jealous and I dismissed it from my mind. Now I'm beginning to wonder if perhaps she is right. May I have your opinion, please?—YONKERS.

Dear Yonk: I'll bet the girl who stuck in the shiv has no Phi Beta Kappa key—and if she had one, she'd probably wear it embedded in her forehead like an Indian jewel. Congratulations. Around your neck is just fine.

Dear Ann Landers: I believe I have read every column you've ever written but I don't recall that you've ever dealt with the problem of married couples who work in the same organization.

Because of two married couples in our office the place is up for grabs. The top muckymuck in my department married the chief bookkeeper's assistant and now she is out of the office about 40 per cent of the time—on full pay. When she does come in she's out of touch.

The second married couple are known as the happy warriors. They alternately hit each other and mush it up at the water cooler, behind the file cabinet or wherever they happen to be when the mood hits them. Their shenanigans are distracting and annoying.

Will you kindly review this problem in print and give us your views?—DISTRACTED AND ANNOYED.

Dear D and A: I can't come out flat-footed and say that married people should NEVER work in the same organization since some couples manage this arrangement well.

For the most part, however, it is a poor idea not only for the reasons you mentioned but because too much togetherness can put a dead hand on any relationship.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 22, divorced and the mother of three small children. My ex-husband has no interest in the children. I support them and myself.

The problem is this: My only recreation is dancing. I go to a nice night club once a week from 9 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. My brother drives me over and comes back to take me home.

Officer Elected

Miss Gwen Jones was elected president of St. David's Junior girls' choir, Cordova Bay, at a recent meeting.

Other officers were Dorothy Kennedy, vice-president; Christine Pearson, secretary; Jo Bergink, treasurer.

Choir conductor is Mrs. H. G. Walker and pianist is Mrs. A. Boutil.

KIWANIANES

Victoria Kwanianes met recently at the Ingham Hotel. A new member, Mrs. Norman Kennedy, was welcomed along with Mrs. Jack McLeod, who is now back in Victoria. A Christmas party, in the form of a smorgasbord, has been planned for Dec. 4 at the new clubhouse of the Uplands Golf Club.

AMY By Harry Mace

"Congratulations! You've just been voted the strongest dog on the block."

Spring is for the birds!

Sure Spring is when the birds build. But is that any reason why we should do the same?

Winter's a far better time to have those renovating and redecorating jobs done around your home. Men and materials are more readily available for one thing. For another, you can often save money through off-season discounts. To help you do it now, Home Improvement Loans under the National Housing Act are available through your bank. You may be able to obtain up to $4,000 with up to ten years to repay. Your contractor or building supply dealer can offer other extended payment plans. Why wait for Spring? Spring is for the birds. Do It Now.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL

BARRY MOORE

36-year-old President of Crusade Evangelism of Canada is a dynamic Canadian Crusader dedicated to the cause of presenting Jesus Christ as the answer for today's problems.

A native of London, Ontario, Mr. Moore received his early schooling there. After graduating from London Teachers' College he taught for eight years with the Board of Education. In 1951 he graduated from the University of Western Ontario with his B.A. degree and later received his M.A. as president of the graduating class of Columbia Bible College, South Carolina in 1958.

His sparkling sense of humor and sincerity have endeared him to many hearts on both sides of the Atlantic. He participated in the Youth For Christ International World Congresses in Brussels, Belgium (1950) and Belfast, Ireland (1952). His heart burden for missions carried him three times to Europe for French Evangelism in 1950-52-55.

With his teaching background and experience as a counsellor, Mr. Moore speaks with authority on problems in Canada today.

His Crusades have challenged thousands to take their stand for Christ and the Church from Nova Scotia to B.C.

Firemen Feel Foolish

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) —Members of the Carlsbad fire department weren't feeling so hot Friday.

The proud firemen hopped on their shiny new fire engine Thursday and roared off to do battle with a burning auto in a hilly part of town. It was their seventh call in the $27,000 truck.

As they fought the fire, the truck rolled backward down a hill. The men dropped their hoses and took off in hot pursuit, but the truck slipped over an embankment and plunged into a canyon 125 feet below.

Fire Chief Robert Hardin estimated damage at $5,000.

Credit Spurs House

OTTAWA (CP)—Moving with unusual speed, the Commons Friday approved a government resolution establishing a joint parliamentary committee to study the laws controlling consumer credit in Canada.

Opposition speakers said the committee's main job will be devising legislation to outlaw harsh interest charges and unscrupulous money-lenders.

By prior arrangement, only four speakers rose to place all parties in the House solidly behind the proposal.

The debate, first since the resolution was placed on the Commons order paper last June, took less than 30 minutes.

Solicitor-General J. Watson MacNaught said there has been growing concern about the unethical credit practices reported in the press during recent years.

Girl Rescued Following Leap

An 18-year-old girl who tried to commit suicide by jumping off the Johnson Street bridge early Friday was rescued by two city policemen in a boat after she changed her mind and began swimming for shore.

Big argument in Dallas is: What was tiger in zoo doing when photographer struck? Some say crying, some say praying, some guess peek-a-boo and some say he's just bashful. Photographer says he doesn't know.—(AP Photos).

Former Tourist Chief Woored by Victoria

A letter has been written to D. Leo Dolan, former head of the Canadian government tourist bureau, asking whether he is interested in the job of commissioner or the Victoria Visitor's Bureau. His answer has not yet been received.

visitors' bureau president G. Conway Parrot said last night. Resignation of the present bureau commissioner, William Hawkins, takes effect Nov. 30. Applications for the job are being considered.

Burchill Reports:

Chinese Won't Revolt

There is no chance of internal revolt in Communist China, a Royal Roads professor who visited China last summer said last night.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the Victoria branch of the World Federalists of Canada, Prof. C. S. Burchill said most people in China are better satisfied with what they have than any conceivable revolutionary alternative—revolution would bring chaos and they prefer what they have to chaos.

Prof. Burchill said the Chinese regime does face a military danger from the U.S. and Russia. He said the Chinese people are quite conscious of the danger from the U.S. but are not particularly concerned about the frontier dispute with India.

Prof. Burchill said the Chinese are financing economic development the same way any other country would—by restricting consumption and using the surplus thus obtained for capital expenditure. They are concentrating on economic specialization by regions and

Separatist Says:

Too Late to Stop Us

By JUDITH BAINES

It is too late to stop separatism, according to the young Quebec separatist who spoke at the University of Victoria yesterday.

Pierre Bourgault, 29, who concluded the university's French Canada week with a lively defence of separatism, is editor of l'Indépendance, the official publication of the separatist political party in Quebec, the Rally of National Independence. He is on the executive of the party.

CAN TALK HERE

Although there is less interest in western Canada about separatism than in the east, it is easier to discuss it in the west, which is not so emotionally involved in the issues, he said.

He said separatists refuse to adopt the position of the non-separatists and the Liberal government in Quebec, who "prefer to govern by ultimatum."

"We refuse the status of a minority," he said, "and federal government concessions will not change this status."

He said that the 17 per cent English minority in Quebec has imposed its language on the French, which refusing to learn to speak French.

Referring to the "lower social status of French Canadians," he said, "We want to acquire an equal social status without becoming someone else."

BECOME INDEPENDENT
Under separation, Quebec would become economically independent, which is not true of Canada now. He called Canada a "glorified banana republic."

French Canada does not exist on an international level. An independent Quebec would not be politically isolated, but would engage in political and commercial exchange with the rest of the world.

SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT
Asked what changes would occur in the internal government of Quebec seceded, Mr. Bourgault said a socialist government would be in operation. He said a revolution is taking place in Quebec to give Quebecois freedom as well as independence.

"This revolution is a movement from within aiming at betterment of the group in the fastest possible way, and has nothing to do with Ottawa," he said.

Answering a question about the willingness of Quebecois to make the sacrifices necessary for independence, he said the separatist minority is growing and will eventually acquire political leadership.

"Confederation is doomed," he said. "I don't believe in Canada any more."

Wallet Stolen

A silent thief slipped into a room at Royal Victoria Auto Court overnight Friday and stole $32 from a wallet belonging to R. Roche, 2009 Lawson, West Vancouver. The wallet was in Mr. Roche's pants which were hung over a chair back.

Four-Car Crash Hurts Two

A juvenile was thrown clear when the car in which he was riding was in a four-car crackup at Trans-Canada Highway and Wilkinson Road last night.

Another juvenile occupant was thrown partially out after the car veered into a ditch. Both were in fair condition in St. Joseph's Hospital.

St. Joseph's Hospital student nurse Patricia Beach, 20, was taken to the hospital with a cut on her head after a collision at Port and Broad. Mrs. Ruth A. Stewart, 709 Connaught, was admitted to St. Joseph's with face and knee cuts after her car hit a telephone pole at 951 Hereward.

Homes Riffled In Saanich

A number of break-ins were reported by Saanich police throughout yesterday evening. Saanich detectives were still investigating the break-ins early this morning.

It was not immediately known what was taken from homes of Saanich residents.

NEW WESTMINSTER (Special) — An undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the fate of B.C. Social Credit League resolutions continues to plague the party's annual convention.

Most of the 400 delegates attending the convention here are naturally jubilant over the government's recent victory at the polls but few of them are here just to celebrate.

They come seeking government solutions to local problems, to proffer local solutions to provincial problems or to point out problems which they think the government has failed to recognize.

Local problems get a generally sympathetic ear when delegates take them straight to cabinet ministers, but there is a feeling that resolutions covering locally-inspired proposals and resolutions have a

Too Late

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday an eastern financial was wanted to buy $3,000,000 worth of British Columbia party bonds but he couldn't.

The premier told the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit party that the man told him: "Oh, Mr. Premier, I'd like to buy $3,000,000 worth of them."

Later, in an interview, Mr. Bennett identified the man as Douglas Weldon of Midland-Outer Securities Limited of London, Ont. The premier said he told him B.C. didn't have a nickel's worth of parties to give him.

Parties are government-guaranteed bonds that can be cashed at par at any time.

Upset Victory

Browne Loses Post To Langley Farmer

NEW WESTMINSTER — A surprise to party officials yesterday, last night became the upset victor in a six-way scrap for presidency of the B.C. Social Credit League, defeating Victoria's Archie Browne on the fifth ballot.

New president of the league is George Driediger, who has been a party member for 10 years, but who attended his first convention yesterday.

Driediger, a rank outsider in the race, was stunned by his own victory.

DIDN'T KNOW PAY

He couldn't even tell reporters how much the job pays.

Party officials filled them in — the salary is $8,000 a year.

Mr. Browne took over the presidency nine months ago on the death of George Hahn. Before that he was vice-president of the league and the natural successor to the top post.

By TERRY HAMMOND

NEW WESTMINSTER — Fourteen Liberal MPs have signed a secret petition urging the Pearson government to adopt Social Credit monetary reforms, national Socred leader Robert Thompson said here yesterday.

His sensational disclosure was made before more than 300 delegates and guests attending the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit League.

He presaged the remark by telling the large audience that what he had to say was "a secret."

He asked reporters to treat the disclosure as off the record. But newsmen covering the convention told Mr. Thompson that the remark could not be accepted in that vein because it was made at an open meeting and before a large crowd.

Thompson

He argued that newsmen covering the convention here should regard the remark as a confidence because he has made it several times across the country and it hadn't been printed yet.

If newsmen used the remark, he continued, he would be accused of a breach of confidence.

"I don't want to make political capital out of this," he said.

Mr. Thompson declined to elaborate on his remark other than to say the number of Liberal MPs growing disenchanted with the federal government's fiscal policies is still growing.

Easy Win Home Isn't Worried

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, fresh from victory in a Scottish byelection that won him a seat in the Commons, said Friday his victory in Kinross and West Perthshire was a "decisive vote of confidence" in himself and his government. He gained a 9,328-vote plurality.

But Conservatives still brooded over their humiliation in Luton, where voters spurned the defending government candidate and Labor won by 3,749 votes.

UNSAFE CLASS

Politicians said Douglas-Home's defence of a safe Scottish seat was of much less significance than the Luton defeat as a pointer to national opinion. Luton is one of nearly 100 Tory ridings in the "marginal" or unsafe class.

But Home shrugged off Luton as "the last page of the old chapter" and Kinross as "the first page in the new."

Home's 14,147 votes were more than those of his six opponents combined. A Liberal came second and a Laborite third. Independent William Rushiton of "That Was the Week That Was" won only 45 votes.

Official Drops Dead

Race Payoff Fans Riot, Start Fires

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — One man died and several others were injured Friday night as more than 500 harness track spectators rioted following a six-horse accident at Roosevelt Raceway.

The dead man was identified by track officials as Conrad Rothengast, head of the track's security police and a former chief inspector of New York police. Roosevelt officials said he collapsed and died of a heart attack shortly after the riot began.

Some 40 police cars carrying some 100 policemen and members of the riot squads from Nassau County were rushed to the suburban track to try to quell the riot. Fire equipment was called after the fans set at least eight fires in the stands at the multi-million dollar structure.

The fans rioted because the spill cut down the top horses in the race and automatically negated the twin-double possibilities for most of the bettors.

The twin double involves coupling the winners of the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth races. Considerable payoffs are involved. Just last Wednesday, the Roosevelt twin double returned a world record $79,000.30 to one bettor.

The riot finally was brought under control at about 11:35 p.m., approximately one hour and 10 minutes after it started. New fires were being set and the rioting continued nearly an hour after the first spectators reacting when the result of the sixth race on the nine-race program was made official — poured over the rail and on to the track.

The tote board in the infield was destroyed. One sulky was broken into pieces and set on fire. Press box observers counted eight fires burning in the stands below them.

Some rioters were hurt when club-wielding policemen tried to stop them from overturning police cars that were parked on the track near the finish line. Windows and doors were broken and torn loose, glass signs and doors kicked in and sets were ripped up and turned into kindling by the surging throng.

Won't Picket Canadians U.S. Unionists Decide

CHICAGO (AP) — Labor leaders decided Friday to stop picketing Canadian ships that have been tied up at Great Lakes ports for a week.

The announcement followed conferences between Jules Sechet, of Washington, a lawyer for the U.S. National Labor Relations Board, and Irving Friedman, lawyer for the Great Lakes district of the Seafarers' International Union and Local 19 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

The union said its decision to stop picketing covers all vessels that have been idle, except freighters of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited of Toronto which have been trying to take on a cargo of wheat in Chicago for more than six months.

Sechet said ships of two other companies involved in the tie-up will be loaded or unloaded without interference.

INVESTIGATING

The NLRB has been investigating complaints of unfair labor practices against the SIU.

The SIU began picketing a week ago in a protest against the Canadian government's action in placing the SIU and other Canadian maritime unions under trusteeship.

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister MacEachen said Friday night there is "a strong prospect for some success" in overcoming picketing of Canadian lake ships at Chicago and other United States ports.

He told the Commons there had been "an encouraging report" from Chicago about an agreement reached between the U.S. National Labor Relations Board and unions including the Seafarers' International Union.

Mr. MacEachen was guarded in his comment, however. He spoke of the "possible elimination" of picketing at U.S. Great Lakes ports that has hindered the loading and unloading of Canadian ships.

TORONTO (CP) — Charles H. Millard, one of the three trustees of maritime unions in Canada, said Friday night a decision to halt the picketing of Canadian ships in U.S. port is not good enough if it exempts ships of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited.

"I can't say that half a loaf is better than none," Mr. Millard commented. He said that continued picketing of Upper Lakes ships carrying crews of the Canadian Maritime Union (CMU) constitutes discrimination against Canadian crews.

Six Guards Kidnapped In Record Gem Haul

$1,000,000 HIJACKED

NEW YORK (UPI) — A gang of hijackers, two dressed like policemen and three wearing Halloween masks, Friday stole an estimated $1,000,000 worth of jewels and kidnapped six guards in perhaps the largest such U.S. robbery.

The jewels, being transported from a jeweler's exchange to a firm in lower Manhattan, were in 2,000 separate white envelopes. The loot of necklaces, rings and brooches had been cleaned or repaired and were being returned to their owners.

It took the gunmen only a matter of seconds to force the delivery wagon carrying the jewels to the curb, overcome the guards and escape.

OUT OF BUSINESS?

The jewels were being returned by the AAA Messenger Service.

The gang, working with clock-like precision, used a black sedan and a black panel truck in the robbery. It took place on 41st Street and 12th Avenue.

WITHOUT TRACE

Police converged on the area and quickly sealed it off with dozens of roadblocks, but the gang had disappeared without a trace.

Chief of detectives Lawrence Kearney said the messenger service station wagon left the jeweler's exchange shortly before 1 p.m.

Max Krixman, manager of the messenger service, was sitting in the front seat alongside driver Louis Moots of Ridgefield, N.J. The other four guards were in the back with the jewels.

INSIGNIA INITIALS

Kearney said that when the station wagon turned on 41st Street, a black sedan that appeared similar to an unmarked police car pulled up along side. Moots and Krixman noted the two men inside were wearing policeman's uniforms with the insignia initials SP for Special Police on their collars.

The phony policemen forced the station wagon to the curb. One of them got out of the car and approached the messengers.

NO VIOLATION

"We thought we were being pulled over for a traffic violation," Krixman said.

But one of the "policemen" suddenly whipped out a pistol and said "this is a holdup."

At the same time, a black panel truck pulled up behind the station wagon blocking it, and a man with a Halloween mask over his face appeared on the other side of the station wagon with a sawed-off shotgun.

The six guards were quickly ordered into the rear of the panel truck and were handcuffed to a railing.

Big Two Break Wheat Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Soviet deadlock over terms for the sale of surplus United States wheat was broken Friday night when the U.S. government put it up to American grain merchants to make their own deals.

The Americans lost no time in bidding for the $500,000,000 worth of Soviet-bloc business and the first sale was signalled when the commerce department granted a licence for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat to Communist Hungary.

ROST WINTER

In Minneapolis, Cargill Incorporated announced it had received this initial licence. A spokesman said the deal involved about 3,700,000 bushels of soft winter wheat valued at $6,500,000, minus transportation charges.

The company said the transaction was within the confines of the government agreement, namely that at least 50 per cent of the shipments would move in U.S. vessels, according to their availability. First shipments are expected to go forward late this month.

The deal with Hungary was a $7,600,000 transaction, including the cost of delivery.

Canada's Flying to Pieces!

Island, B.C., Quebec—Even Indians Want Out

QUEBEC (CP) — Pierre Berton said Friday Canada seems to be "in very real danger of flying apart—not into two pieces, one English-speaking and one French-speaking, but into half a dozen pieces."

For years, the nationally-known writer told laughing students at the Laval University congress of Canadian affairs, there was no debate at all in Canada.

"It was all like British Columbia,"

But Quebec's "quiet revolution" seemed to have touched off a whole series of conflicts. (See Page 5.)

"I confidently expect to see an Eskimo separatist movement before the year is out," he said. "The Indians already have one going at Brantford—they've even been to the United Nations.

"Vancouver Island is doing its best to revert to the status of Crown colony, thus freeing itself from the hideous thrall-dom of British Columbia."

"British Columbia has already separated itself subconsciously from the rest of Canada, the doctors of Saskatchewan have practically formed a new nation, and if it weren't for Joey Smallwood, I'm quite certain Newfoundland would separate cheerfully."

"The only separatist movement that really isn't getting anywhere is the one I belong to. That's the movement to separate Canada from the United States."

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

PHIL WATSON, one-time coach of Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, is reported to be one of the most successful encyclopedia salesmen in the Boston area. . . and Perry Moss, the controversial ex-coach of Montreal Alouettes, is now scouting university football talent for Green Bay Packers in the southeastern United States. . . Kansas City Athletics have signed an 18-year-old youngster who could be a one-man bullpen staff if he takes to relief-pitching. He's an ambidextrous 18-year-old who recently struck out 18 batters as a righthander in a semi-pro game only three days after whiffing six in three innings as a left-handed reliever. . . It seems only yesterday that Fred Hutchinson was a high-school pitching sensation in Seattle. Proof that it wasn't comes with the announcement that Cincinnati Reds have signed an 18-year-old first-baseman named Jack Hutchinson. He's the son of the Cincinnati manager. . . Los Angeles Dodgers will, it is reported, defend their National League championship next season with only 21 experienced players. Because of the first-year rule, they will keep three raw rookies and farm out a fourth who will count on their roster limit of 25. If they don't they would almost certainly lose all four in the draft. . . New York Giants of the National Football League undoubtedly have the oldest starting backfield in professional football. With quarterback Y. A. Tittle admitting to 37 years, Hugh McElhenny to 34, Frank Gifford to 33 and Alex Webster to 32 it averages out at 34 years. . . unless Eastern selectors get together it seems reasonably certain that Canadian football's top awards will go to Joe Kapp as outstanding player, Russ Jackson as outstanding Canadian and Tom Brown as outstanding linemen. And that seems about perfect. . .

HALO-LIFTING: Most of us were quite indignant when New York Yankees summarily dismissed Casey Stengel as manager although it came out afterwards that the Yankees couldn't keep Ralph Houk down on the farm any longer and had to make the decision then or lose him to Detroit Tigers. And it was not quite any secret that Casey was not too popular with his players.

But things have changed now that Casey isn't managing a winner any more and people are speaking up.

Few probably paid much attention when Jim Piersall popped off a week or so ago to the effect that "Case is great talking to the writers in the dugout but out on the field he doesn't know what park he is in" but there was something more significant in the remarks made by Clete Boyer, no pop-off, at a question and answer period during a dinner at which he was one of the honored guests.

"I never liked Stengel," the Yankee third-baseman said in answer to a direct question. "When the team wins its Casey who wins it but when it loses some player made a mistake. He might be good public relations for baseball but I don't like him and I don't know any player who does."

It all points up one thing — that Casey should have retired when the Yankees cut him loose with several hundred thousand dollars as a bonus and taken his laurels with him to Pasadena.

YOGI BERRA will likely get it if Joe Garagiola has his way, as much "ink" as Stengel used to get in New York. Garagiola's latest credit for his body is the statement that "as a manager you can observe a lot by watching." . . . it's not yet definite that television of the Grey Cup game will be available at the Royal Theatre. The announced price of $5 per seat seems to be a stumbling block. It might be fair enough for the best seats but with the game available on home television no one is likely to pay that much for the front or back rows. . . under-the-roof Grey Cup tickets at Empire Stadium this year will cost $12 and there are others at $10, $7.50 and $6, which makes the entrance fee about double of what it was only a few years back. Boosting prices because of demand is something which could boom or bust in time but the CFL believes in making hay while the sun shines even though fans might get disgruntled for having to pay $10 to sit in the rain. . . it was no surprise that place-kicker Pete Kempf of the B.C. Lions was voted the rookie of the year award in the Western Football Conference. A new field-goal record and 109 points is admittedly hard to overlook but Kempf only had to kick after his teammates put him in position to score while Paul Seale stood out as a corner-linebacker, one of the most demanding positions on the defensive team and one seldom filled capably by a rookie. . . Willie Fleming has scored 60 touchdowns in his five league seasons with the Lions and added one convert for a five-year total of 361 points. About half were on running plays, the rest on plays which started with a pass but saw him more often than not run almost the whole distance.

Colonist Cup Decision Down Drain Oak Bay, Victoria in 1-1 Standoff

By ROBIN JEFFREY

Bad weather and confusion combined last night at Royal Athletic Park to turn the Colonist Cup city high school soccer championship between Victoria High Ties and Oak Bay into a muddled, water-soaked 1-1 draw.

The game was abandoned by referee George Steele after the teams had played full regulation time. It will be replayed within the coming week.

It had originally been intended to play 20 minutes overtime and this was announced to the fans with five minutes remaining. But with rain streaming off the grandstand and the players soaked through, Steele abandoned the match after full time. Problems and the weather haunted the contest from the time the gates opened at 7 p.m. At 7:20, with most of the 900 fans in the park, it began to rain. And then to pour.

At 7:25, when the pre-game introductions were to begin, the public address system went on strike. Players stood in the rain and finally started without the ceremonies. John Pickburn finally got the PA going after the teams had been playing for a few minutes.

The Oak Bay band was to lead off the proceedings with O Canada, but got caught in the rain and had to run for cover to save its instruments.

At half-time the Vic High majorettes provided the entertainment. And what entertainment. In white socks and short skirts they ploughed through ankle-deep mud in the park infield.

And at the conclusion of hostilities none of the fans, and few, if any, of the officials — were quite certain what was to be done.

After much conferring and comparing of school schedules it was decided that the game would have to be re-played. Officials were not certain of the date of the re-play as both schools have other fixtures upcoming, but stated it would be some time during the next week.

LIKELY DATES

Wednesday or Friday are the most likely dates but whether the game will be a floodlit or afternoon affair has not been decided.

And then there was a soccer game. It was a good one, too.

Ties started fast and looked as if they were going to sweep Oak Bay away.

BULLET DRIVE

Bays' goalie Brian McKenzie, playing with badly bruised ribs, had to dive to save a bullet drive from Mike Graas after only four minutes.

Moments later Marty Taylor banged a chest-high whistler from 20 yards which caromed off McKenzie's body for Ties outside left Steve Barnes to tap into an open side for Vic High's lone goal.

MISS CHANCE

Ties missed another chance a few minutes later when Jack Magi saw a pass from Don Frampton slide past him with an open net to shoot at from four yards.

But Oak Bay began to come back and were unfortunate not to tie it up when Pete Rochfort shot off a post and centre-forward Greg Pearson fanned on the rebound.

LOOKED BETTER

Ties had two more good opportunities before the half ended and were a goal better on the play for the first 40 minutes.

But the rain continued to come down, not in buckets but in truck fulls. And Bays, with so many successful swim teams behind them, began to come into their own.

After applying considerable pressure, Pearson took a ball at the edge of the penalty area, side-stepped his check and shot into the lower right-hand corner to tie it up.

FIERCE SCRAMBLE

Four minutes later Bays nearly went ahead but Vic High centre-half Ron Stubblings cleared off the goal line from a fierce scramble.

And that's the way it went till the finish. Bays holding a slight edge but both teams tiring visibly.

Oak Bay — Brian McKenzie; Lloyd Murphy; Mike Haggerty; Jim Crawford; Peter Roberts; Bob Pearson; Bruce Wilson; Dave Evans; Reserves: Doug Macdonald; Bob Pearson; Monte Fulton; Ted Simpson.

John Ferguson Wins Top Lacrosse Prize

VANCOUVER — Nanaimo's John Ferguson, who put a curb on his temper and turned into a scoring star, last night was named the outstanding player in the Inter-City Lacrosse League and won a defensive spot on the first all-star team.

Ferguson finished second to New Westminster's Jack Blonda in league scoring while playing with a last-place club and led the league in goals scored with 32. In the previous season he had led the league in penalties and scored only 21 goals.

ALL-STAR

Joining him on defence on the first all-star club was Vancouver's Bill Chisholm. Blonda and Vancouver's sharp-shooting Sid Warwick won forward spots, and Gordie Gimple of Vancouver and Cliff Sepka of New Westminster tied for the third spot.

Merv Schweitzer of Vancouver was named first all-star goalie, dropping New Westminster's Lee Norman off the first team for the first time since he came into the league in 1959.

SECOND TEAM

Norman was second-team goalie in voting. Tom McVie of Nanaimo and Bill Barbour of Vancouver made it on defence, with Terry Davis of Nanaimo, Paul Parnell of New Westminster and Wayne Pecknold of Vancouver on the forward line.

Two Victoria Shamrocks made the third all-star club. Don Ashbee joined Fred Uselman of Vancouver and Jack Barclay of New Westminster at forward, and Barry Ashbee was selected on defence with Doug McRory of New Westminster. Goalie was Alf Shuker of Nanaimo.

Sepka won the Maitland Trophy for sportsmanship, and Nanaimo's Larry Biggs was named rookie of the year.

Inter-City Junior Lacrosse League awards were also presented at the senior league's annual dinner.

George Longman of Norburn was named most-valuable player. Norm Neatman of Vindex the outstanding goalie, and Art Dickinson of Norburn the rookie of the year.

Inter-City Commissioner Tom Gordon addressed the dinner, and called for a return to seven-man lacrosse next season. The matter would have to receive full support of the four clubs, which is considered highly doubtful.

Worst Fears True Chiefs Hit Trouble In Opening Contest

have come a long way in senior "A" basketball, but they found out last night they still have a fair piece to go.

Playing their first Inter-City League game of the season, Chiefs ran into a polished Vancouver IGA club and lost out, 96-89, before about 100 fans at Central Junior High School. In losing they proved what they had suspected all along — the league is going to be much tougher this year than it was last.

REBUILT CLUB

Take IGA, for instance. Grocers played under the Puritans label last year and finished last. This year they are a rebuilt club, built on experience, poise and fine shooting.

And if that isn't enough they have got Ian Dixon, a 20-year-old rookie who makes the team feel.

Dixon, just back from a baseball season in the New York Yankee chain, was playing his first game of senior basketball. He scored 30 points, set up at least 10 more with some flashy passing, and generally killed any chance Chiefs had.

And Chiefs did have chances. After the first two minutes there was never more than three points separating the clubs in a dazzling first half which ended with the Chiefs ahead, 49-48.

Then, as they did so often last year, Chiefs hit a dead end. For the entire 12-minute third quarter they could do hardly anything right, and they came out of it trailing, 76-65.

Although IGA kept the rally going for a while and Chiefs surged back in the late stages, the game was won and lost in that quarter.

In the first half, Chiefs were able to stay with Grocers on the strength of the outside shooting of Darrell Lorimer and some great rebounding and shooting by Pete Simmonds. But in the third quarter they lost the boards, were goaded into taking shots they had no business taking. They recovered, but about five minutes too late.

LIMITED SERVICE

Lorimer scored 25 points, Simmonds 18 and Bob Tomlinson 14 for Chiefs. Norris Martin, hampered by flu, saw limited service but scored 12 points.

Teams play again tonight at Central Junior High at 8:30. Between then and now, Chiefs will be figuring ways to stop Mr. Dixon. As of now, that's their biggest problem.

Even Weatherman Picks on Ottawa

Even the weatherman seems to be conspiring against Ottawa Rough Riders, who have been knocked out of the Grey Cup playoffs in the Eastern semi-finals for the past two years.

It has been raining steadily for two days in Ottawa and the forecast for today was for Both CFL playoff games will be televised locally today. The Ottawa-Montreal game will start on Channel 3 and 6 at 10 a.m. and the Calgary-Saskatchewan game on Channel 8 at 1:30 p.m.

Intermittent rain, which just about makes it certain that the Riders and Alouettes will decide who meets Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Eastern final on a field which will be either goo or slop.

On the strength of last year's semi-final, in which the Alouettes came from behind under atrocious playing conditions to get an 18-17 win, the Alouettes' may be the better mudders.

Mud and rain could nullify the pass-attack advantage which Russ Jackson gives Ottawa and reduce it to sloshing infantry battle with Riders' Ernie White and Dave Thelen pitted against George Dixon and Don Clark. If this is the case, the result would at least be a toss-up.

Despite snow, better conditions were expected at Calgary for the first game of the Western semi-final between the Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughriders.

SNOW CLEARED
Workers invaded McMahon Stadium on Friday to clear the field of three inches of snow and discovered the field was in good condition although it will undoubtedly be on the hard side. Sunny skies, temperature in the low 40s and 15-mile-an-hour westerly winds were forecast for game time.

Saskatchewan, it was indicated, will again rely on a tough defence although the club showed considerable punch in its last three games. It is expected that coach Bob Shaw will use his two new imports, Nick Murney and Joe Lewis and bench ex-Stampeders halfback Ed Buchanan.

STAMPS FAVORED
Stampeders remained eight-and-a-half point favorites while Ottawa was quoted a nine-point choice over Alouettes.

Stamps and Saskatchewan play the second game of their series on Monday with the winner starting a best-of-three final against B.C. Lions next Saturday.

Chualo Beaten

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tony Alonti survived a third round knockdown and came back to win a close decision over George Chualo of Toronto in a bruising 10-round fight Friday night.

Alonti relied on stinging lefts and rights to the head with occasional body attacks on the rough, tough Chualo, who was warned for low blows and lost the last round because of a rabbit punch.

Referee Cy Gottfried took the round from Chualo because of the punch. Judge Jim Ruby voted for Alonti 95 to 93. Gottfried had it the same way Judge Bunny Lovitt voted for Chualo, 99 to 93.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—World middleweight champion Dick Tiger and Joey Giardello signed a contract for a title fight in Convention Hall here Dec. 7.

The signing was for the benefit of the public. Their representatives previously signed a contract calling for Tiger, of Nigeria, to receive 47½ per cent of the gate and Giardello, of Philadelphia, to get 15 per cent.

Colonist Man Off to Europe

Colonist reporter Don Gain leaves today by RCAF plane for Germany and France where he will spend the next three or four weeks with Canada's military personnel overseas. He will arrive in Germany

Wednesday and spend some time with the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry recently posted from Victoria to Fort MacLeod near Düsseldorf.

In Europe he will also visit RCAF stations in Germany, France and Britain and send back stories on military life with the NATO forces.

Mr. Gain will board a plane for Germany Tuesday in Trenton along with men of the Princess Patricia's who are in the process of being airlifted by the RCAF to their German base.

Anti-Red Stand

Jaycees To Fight 'Cacklers'

NANAIMO—The national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce told Nanaimo Jaycees Thursday the organization can play a large part in combating the "insidious cackling of Communists."

Fred West was addressing a dinner meeting of the chamber, local businessmen and civic officials. He urged young men to take a stand "against apathy" by joining the Jaycees.

SHOULD BE INSPIRED

Mr. West said young men should be inspired to take a stand against Communism and fight the planned economy system.

Mr. West spoke of the work accomplished by Nanaimo Jaycees. "There has been a significant change in Nanaimo since I was here two years ago," he said. "The Junior Chamber of Commerce is performing an important function."

Future in Doubt

Legionnaires Split Over Own Building

NANAIMO—The future of the Royal Canadian Legion building on Wallace Street is still in doubt.

At one of the largest general meetings held here in recent years Legionnaires came prepared to debate whether the building should be sold, or, if not, what could be done to save it.

Service officer Fred Steeds said, "We have had the finest giveaway executive ever."

More Beauty Downtown Next Year

By IAN STREET

Plans are being made at city hall for launching a stepped-up downtown beautification program for Victoria early in 1964.

Ald. A. W. Toone said yesterday studies in progress will determine how much extra money and manpower will be required to get it underway.

An "informal meeting was held in the office of Mayor R. B. Wilson Wednesday. The mayor and Ald. Toone discussed the subject of downtown beautification thoroughly with civic officials.

An upshot of the meeting will be a full report on the situation within two weeks by city manager Dennis Young.

It was agreed at the meeting, said Ald. Toone, that nothing could be achieved without "admitting the cost factor."

There is also the matter of work load being carried by the city planning department, which would have to draw up an overall beautification plan, and consideration is being given to an increase in staff.

"We'll be doing more planning this time and providing more leadership," said Ald. Toone, who heads the city council committee that handles downtown beautification.

"It will also be necessary to turn to more public figures for support. We can go only so far in spending public money."

"In carrying out the paint-up program for downtown buildings on a color-coordinated plan the actual job will have to be paid for by the property owners."

A pilot paint-up project has actually been carried out on three adjoining buildings on Government Street but the follow-up which was to take in a further two blocks nearby has stalled, mainly for lack of support from property owners.

Ald. Toone said he is optimistic of success in the new program, which will include plans for rehabilitation of Bastion Square. There is some concern in city hall over news the former Board of Trade building, opposite the old courthouse, has been put up for sale at $35,000.

"This building is important to the city as part of the historical area surrounding Bastion Square and therefore we have an interest in what happens to it," said Ald. Toone.

"There is a greater awareness of the need to make the city more attractive. It's actually no more important now than it was a year ago—but the need is more apparent."

"We simply cannot afford to let the downtown area slide into a state of decay."

Hellyer Tells Victoria

New Ship Program Means More Work

By DON GAIN

The government's present $160,000,000 combined shipbuilding program will provide more man-hours' work than the cancelled $452,000,000 navy frigate program, Defence Minister Hellyer told a press conference at Royal Roads yesterday.

West Coast shipyards will get orders under the plans if their prices are competitive, he said.

The press conference was held after the eighth annual meeting of the Canadian Services Colleges Advisory Board.

NOT OUTSIDE

The frigate program would have forced purchase of equipment outside Canada, Mr. Hellyer said, where this does not apply to the present plan to build research and department of transport vessels.

Canada's defence policy is being carefully worked out in a comprehensive review, the first time in a number of years, he said.

BY NEW YEAR

"A white paper will be presented to the government by the New Year on a 10-year program dealing with the length of service of various weapons systems."

Mr. Hellyer said a group in his department would be given the specific job of carrying out the review, with both military and civilian representatives, and the chief of operational research as head.

FLEXIBILITY

"We are looking for flexibility and mobility" in our armed forces, he said, "and operational capability."

Mr. Hellyer said the services colleges meeting was highly useful, a "frank exchange of opinions on such things as libraries, salary levels, facilities and relieving costs."

ON ALL MATTERS

The board advises and makes recommendations to the minister, who is president of the colleges, on all matters.

At the meeting were Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, Lt.-Gen. Geoffrey Walsh, Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap and other service and government officials, businessmen and educationists from all provinces.

Talks Halted

Shipyard Dispute Unsettled

An arbitration attempt in a dispute between the Boilermakers Union and Yarrows Limited appears to have been frustrated.

It was reported last night that a lawyer has advised the board there would be no point in continuing arbitration hearings, since a third party is involved and the courts could therefore overrule the arbitration board's findings.

BOARD ADJOURNS

James McConachy, business manager of International Boilermakers Lodge 191, would only say, however, that the arbitration board has adjourned temporarily.

The work jurisdictional dispute involved sparked a wildcat walkout Oct. 10 at Yarrows shipbuilding yard by 262 boiler-makers. They claimed shipwrights had taken over work traditionally done by boiler-makers.

Appeal Goal Only Short By $80,000

The Greater Victoria United Appeal total is now only $80,000 short of its 1963 goal of $400,000. The 80-per-cent mark was passed yesterday when collections to date totalled $320,562.

At the same stage of the campaign last year, collections amounted to $285,000. Today will be the last day of operation for the information and collection booth at Yates and Douglas, and contributions after this may be made at the Yates and Douglas Bank of Montreal.

Victoria Popular

Army Pleased With Posting

Greater Victoria is gaining an international reputation as a friendly area for armed forces personnel, and at least one unit—the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada—plans to reciprocate.

The battalion arrives at Work Point Barracks in December and January after a three-year tour in Germany.

Its second-in-command, Major Kenneth Webber, said yesterday Victoria is widely known in army circles as "the best place in Canada" to be posted.

LOOKING FORWARD

Major Webber said most of the men are looking forward to their arrival and residence here, in view of the reputation the area enjoys.

He admitted in some areas the civilian-military relationship is not as friendly as it might be "but I'm sure we are going to like it here."

ACTIVE PARTICIPATION

The unit has already made plans to enter hockey, volleyball and soccer teams in local leagues, and army personnel plans to integrate in civilian organizations as well, Major Webber says.

For several of the men their arrival will be like a homecoming. Many of them served with the regiment's second battalion, which was stationed at Gordon Head until 1957.

RELATIVES HERE

Some of the soldiers—including the adjutant, Capt. D. J. Banford—married Victoria girls and have relatives and friends here.

Major Webber said he was impressed with community response to an appeal for married accommodations for the unit.

If Added For Subs

Submarines will be built in Canada if they become a part of the government's defence policy, Defence Minister Hellyer told a press conference here yesterday.

The purchase of three Oberon class submarines from Britain was "part of a production-sharing agreement by the previous government," he said, and the present government is in accord with it.

But future orders for submarines will be filled in Canada, he said.

Colleges Stay

Royal Roads and other service colleges will not be closed, Defence Minister Hellyer said yesterday.

"The Glasco Report did not fairly compare these institutions with civil colleges in the opinion of the advisory board (which met yesterday)," he said. "They are not only efficiently administered but they are doing a good job."

Barbers in Favor Of Optional Closing

Local 372 of the barbers' union has urged city council not to act on a petition requesting a change in closing days from Wednesday to Monday.

City finance committee, which received the petition Thursday, has recommended that city council rescind the barber shop bylaw and allow barbers to regulate themselves.

The union said in a letter received at city hall Friday that the petition "does not have the blessing of the local union" and therefore it asked council "not to let it interfere with our present bylaw."

The letter said it is hoped with the backing of barbers throughout B.C. to obtain an amendment to the Municipal Act that would permit closing on any weekday at the option of the individual barber.

Local president L. J. Stephenson said the current controversy over closing day for barber shops in Victoria "has been brought about by one man." He did not name the man responsible.

"At the last regular meeting of our local union," said Mr.

Stephenson, "the question of Monday or Wednesday closing was discussed and on a standing vote—26 were in favor of (keeping) Wednesday and 22 were against."

"The second motion for closing on any weekday at the option of the individual barber passed with only one dissenting vote."

On instructions of local membership services of a lawyer have been retained to advise in drawing up an amendment to the Municipal Act to allow optional closing days.

The Vancouver local of the Barbers Union and the Barbers Association of B.C. have been approached in an attempt to win support of all barbers in the province for the proposed amendment.

Mr. Stephenson assured city council that if the amendment goes through "we will be able to present to you a petition which would have the support of 100 per cent of the barbers of Victoria."

The petition received earlier showed 27 out of 52 local barbers favored a change from Wednesday to Monday closing.

City hall officials checked licenses issued and declared there were 53 barbers qualified, giving the petition a majority of one, but they were informed yesterday that one of the licensed barbers had recently died.

Blood Donor Clinics Next Week

Blood donor clinics will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Red Cross House, Royal Roads and HMCS Naden respectively.

A clinic will be held Tuesday at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort, 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 9:30 p.m.

A clinic Wednesday at Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, will operate afternoon and evening. Another, Thursday at HMCS Naden will operate 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Others appearing before Magistrate W. E. Macleod included Alvin John Jones charged with careless driving following an accident in which his car struck the rear of a school bus on River Road. He was fined $35 with $5 costs on the careless driving charge and an additional $20 as a minor in possession of liquor.

His two companions, Blair McKinnon and Donald Parker, were also charged with possession. McKinnon was fined $20 and Parker $25.

Franz Pley, charged with driving while his licence was under suspension, was fined $75 with $5.50 costs.

On a charge laid by conservation officer George Vincent, Mario Benetti paid a fine of $20 for carrying a firearm without a licence. His pellet gun was ordered held until he obtains a licence.

School Planning Third Production

NANAIMO—The Woodlands Junior Secondary School theatre will stage its third major production when The Snow Queen is presented in the school auditorium, Nov. 20 and 21.

The play is based on the famous fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen and concerns the search by two children for the phantom Snow Queen.

The Woodlands production includes a special ballet sequence to be danced by students of the Mid-Island Academy of Dancing

Taking leading parts are: Julie Hardcastle as Gerda, David Harris as the Storyteller, Arnold Bercoff, as Kay, Brian Simpson as The Chancellor and Wendy Carmichael as Snow Queen.

Others in the cast are: Phyllis Miles, Trudy Thomas, Linda Bennie, Christine Command, Bill Woodson, Calvin Barrett, Janice Zboyovsky, Diane Miller, Sharon Mooney and Sheila Carpenter. The production is being directed by John Getgood.

Antique Business Began as Pastime

By KLAUS MUENTNER

DUNCAN—Tucked away at the edge of Maple Bay, in full view of Salt Spring Island, the Lukannon Antiques is a meeting place for people who love beautiful things, who want to feel and touch history and those who collect treasures from past centuries.

The former summer retreat is now the permanent residence of Mrs. R. Wainman-Wood and her husband, a retired captain of the Royal Canadian Navy. Mrs. Wainman-Wood is president of the Victoria Antique Dealers Association.

According to the hostess the antique venture here started as a hobby in 1951, with 100 pieces. Now it is impossible to say how many items are displayed throughout the house.

Mrs. Wainman-Wood said "It was something natural to us, as we have been collectors for many years."

The entire household reflects the tradition of wealthy English families, Chinese craftsmen, Irish silversmiths and, she said, "Probably the unique feature of our business is that we live amongst our antiques and we like it."

Each piece has its own story to tell.

The silver flatware once decorated tables of noblemen, and a large collection of Chinese export porcelain of the Ch'ien Lung period, 1736 to 1796, are only two examples of a vast variety.

Explaining the origin of export china, Mrs. Wainman-Wood said wealthy families in England and on the European continent in the 17th century before porcelain was re-invented in the western world, used to order their precious dinnerware in China complete with their own designs and coats of arms.

Other porcelain collections at the Lukannon Antiques include: Bow, Dr. Wall Worcester, Liverpool, Caughley, Derby, Newhall, Coalport, Spode and Rockingham.

Another specialty of Mrs. Wainman-Wood is the intricate silver creations of England's 18th century lady silversmith, Hester Bateman, and one of her contemporary colleagues, William Plummer.

Several of the pieces, illustrated in volumes of noted reputation, would be treasured by museums.

Grits Adore Socred Financing!

By TERRY HAMMOND

NEW WESTMINSTER — Fourteen Liberal MPs have signed a secret petition urging the Pearson government to adopt Social Credit monetary reforms, national Socred leader Robert Thompson said here yesterday.

His sensational disclosure was made before more than 300 delegates and guests attending the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit League.

He presaged the remark by telling the large audience that what he had to say was "a secret."

He asked reporters to treat the disclosure as off the record. But newsmen covering the convention told Mr. Thompson that the remark could not be accepted in that vein because it was made at an open meeting and before a large crowd.

Thompson

He said newsmen covering the convention should regard the remark as a confidence because he has made it several times across the country and it hadn't been printed yet.

If newsmen used the remark, he continued, he would be accused of a breach of confidence.

"I don't want to make political capital out of this," he said.

Mr. Thompson declined to elaborate on his remark other than to say the number of Liberal MPs growing disenchanted with the federal government's fiscal policies is still growing.

Grass Roots' Grip Weak

NEW WESTMINSTER (Special) — An undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the fate of B.C. Social Credit League resolutions continues to plague the party's annual convention.

Most of the 400 delegates attending the convention here are naturally jubilant over the government's recent victory at the polls but few of them are here just to celebrate.

They come seeking government solutions to local problems, to proffer local solutions to provincial problems or to point out problems which they think the government has failed to recognize.

VANISH INTO LIMBO

Local problems get a generally sympathetic ear when delegates take them straight to cabinet ministers, but there is a feeling that resolutions covering locally-inspired proposals and resolutions have a

$3,000,000 Bond Offer Too Late

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday an eastern financial man wanted to buy $3,000,000 worth of British Columbia parity bonds but he couldn't.

The premier told the annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit party that the man told him: "Oh, Mr. Premier, I'd like to buy $3,000,000 worth of them."

Later, in an interview, Mr. Bennett identified the man as Douglas Weldon of Midland-Oiler Securities Limited of London, Ont. The premier said he told him B.C. didn't have a nickel's worth of parities to give him.

Parities are government-guaranteed bonds that can be cashed at par at any time.

Upset Victory

Browne Loses Post To Langley Farmer

NEW WESTMINSTER — A 20-year-old Langley fruit farmer last night became the upset victor in a six-way scrap for presidency of the B.C. Social Credit League, defeating Victoria's Archie Browne on the fifth ballot.

New president of the league is George Driediger, who has been a party member for 10 years, but who attended his first convention yesterday.

Driediger, a rank outsider in the race, was stunned by his own victory.

DIDN'T KNOW PAY

He couldn't even tell reporters how much the job pays.

Party officials filled them in — the salary is $8,000 a year.

Mr. Browne took over the presidency nine months ago on the death of George Hahn. Before that he was vice-president of the league and the natural successor to the top post.

His defeat came as a complete

Easy Win

Home Isn't Worried

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, fresh from victory in a Scottish by-election that won him a seat in the Commons, said Friday his victory in Kinross and West Perthshire was a "decisive vote of confidence" in himself and his government. He gained a 9,328-vote plurality.

But Conservatives still brooded over their humiliation in Luton, where voters spurned the defending government candidate and Labor won by 3,749 votes.

UNSAFE CLANS

Politicians said Douglas-Home's defence of a safe Scottish seat was of much less significance than the Luton defeat as a pointer to national opinion. Luton is one of nearly 100 Tory ridings in the "marginal" or unsafe class.

But Home shrugged off Luton as "the last page of the old chapter" and Kinross as "the first page in the new."

Home's 14,147 votes were more than those of his six opponents combined. A Liberal came second and a Laborite third. Independent William Rushon of That Was The Week That Was won only 45 votes.

Race Payoff Fans Riot, Start Fires

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — One man died and several others were injured Friday night as more than 500 harness track spectators rioted following a six-horse accident at Roosevelt Raceway.

The dead man was identified by track officials as Conrad Rothengast, head of the track's security police and a former chief inspector of New York police. Roosevelt officials said he collapsed and died of a heart attack shortly after the riot began.

Some 40 police cars carrying some 100 policemen and members of the riot squads from Nassau County were rushed to the suburban track to try to quell the riot. Fire equipment was called after the fans set at least eight fires in the stands at the multi-million dollar structure.

The fans rioted because the spill cut down the top horses in the race and automatically negated the twin-double possibilities for most of the bettors.

The twin double involves coupling the winners of the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth races. Considerable payoffs are involved. Just last Wednesday, the Roosevelt twin double returned a world record $79,000.30 to one bettor.

The riot finally was brought under control at about 11:35 p.m., approximately one hour and 10 minutes after it started. New fires were being set and the rioting continued nearly an hour after the first spectators—reacting when the result of the sixth race on the nine-race program was made official—poured over the rail and on to the track.

The tote board in the infield was destroyed. One sully was broken into pieces and set on fire. Press box observers counted eight fires burning in the stands below them.

Some rioters were hurt when club-wielding policemen tried to stop them from overturning police cars that were parked on the track near the finish line.

Windows and doors were broken and torn loose, glass signs and doors kicked in and seats were ripped up and turned into kindling by the surging throng.

Won't Picket Canadians U.S. Unionists Decide

Reaction Guarded In Ottawa

CHICAGO (AP) — Labor leaders decided Friday to stop picketing Canadian ships that have been tied up at Great Lakes ports for a week.

The announcement followed conferences between Jules Se-rot, of Washington, a lawyer for the U.S. National Labor Relations Board, and Irving Friedman, lawyer for the Great Lakes district of the Seafarers' International Union and Local 19 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

The union said its decision to stop picketing covers all vessels that have been idle, except freighters of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited of Toronto which have been trying to take on a cargo of wheat in Chicago for more than six months.

Serot said ships of two other companies involved in the tie-up will be loaded or unloaded without interference.

INVESTIGATING

The NLRB has been investigating complaints of unfair labor practices against the SIU.

The SIU began picketing a week ago in a protest against the Canadian government's action in placing the SIU and other Canadian maritime unions under trusteeship.

Half a Loaf Not Better

TORONTO (CP) — Charles H. Millard, one of the three trustees of maritime unions in Canada, said Friday night a decision to halt the picketing of Canadian ships in U.S. ports is not good enough if it exempts ships of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited.

"I can't say that half a loaf is better than none," Mr. Millard commented. He said that continued picketing of Upper Lakes ships carrying crews of the Canadian Maritime Union (CMU) constitutes discrimination against Canadian crews.

HYENAS KILL 50

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Packs of hyenas have killed 50 children in India's Uttar Pradesh state in the past two months, a news agency reported Friday.

MILLION IN GEMS HIJACKED

NEW YORK (UPI) — A gang of hijackers, two dressed like policemen and three wearing Halloween masks, Friday stole an estimated $1,000,000 worth of jewels and kidnapped six guards in perhaps the largest such U.S. robbery.

The jewels, being transported from a jeweler's exchange to a firm in lower Manhattan, were in 2,000 separate white envelopes. The loot of necklaces, rings and brooches had been cleaned or repaired and were being returned to their owners.

It took the gunmen only a matter of seconds to force the delivery wagon carrying the jewels to the curb, overcome the guards and escape.

The jewels were being returned by the AAA Messenger Service.

LIKE CLOCKWORK

The gang, working with clock-like precision, used a black sedan and a black panel truck in the robbery. It took place on 41st Street and 12th Avenue.

Chief of detectives Lawrence Kearney said the messenger service station wagon left the jeweler's exchange shortly before 1 p.m.

Max Krixman, manager of the messenger service, was sitting in the front seat alongside driver Louis Moots of Ridgefield, N.J. The other four guards were in the back with the jewels.

INSIGNIA INITIALS

Kearney said that when the station wagon turned on 41st Street, a black sedan that appeared similar to an unmarked police car pulled up along side. Moots and Krixman noted the two men inside were wearing policemen's uniforms with the insignia initials SP for Special Police on their collars.

The phony policemen forced the station wagon to the curb. One of them got out of the car and approached the messengers.

NO VIOLATION

"We thought we were being pulled over for a traffic violation," Krixman said.

But one of the "policemen" suddenly whipped out a pistol and said "this is a holdup."

At the same time, a black panel truck pulled up behind the station wagon blocking it, and a man with a Halloween mask over his face appeared on the other side of the station wagon with a sawed-off shotgun.

The six guards were quickly ordered into the rear of the panel truck and were handcuffed to a railing.

Big Two Break Wheat Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Soviet deadlock over terms for the sale of surplus United States wheat was broken Friday night when the U.S. government put it up to American grain merchants to make their own deals.

The Americans lost no time in bidding for the $300,000,000 worth of Soviet-bloc business and the first sale was signalled when the commerce department granted a licence for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat to Communist Hungary.

SOFT WINTER WHEAT

In Minneapolis, Cargill Incorporated announced it had received this initial licence. A spokesman said the deal involved about 3,700,000 bushels of soft winter wheat valued at $6,500,000, minus transportation charges.

The company said the transaction was within the confines of the government agreement, namely that at least 50 per cent of the shipments would move in U.S. vessels, according to their availability. First shipments are expected to go forward late this month.

The deal with Hungary was a $7,000,000 transaction, including the cost of delivery.

19 Perish Three Live

HELSINKI (AP) — Nineteen adults and two children perished Friday night when a DC-3 belonging to the Finnish airline Finnair crashed 220 yards from the runway when it came in for landing at Marichamn, capital of the Aaland Islands in the Baltic.

Two passengers and the air hostess were found alive and brought to hospital.

Canada's Flying to Pieces!

Island, B.C., Quebec—Even Indians Want Out

QUEBEC (CP) — Pierre Berton said Friday Canada seems to be "in very real danger of flying apart—not into two pieces, one English-speaking and one French-speaking, but into half a dozen pieces."

For years, the nationally-known writer told laughing students at the Laval University congress of Canadian affairs, there was no debate at all in Canada.

"It was all like British Columbia."

But Quebec's "quiet revolution" seemed to have touched off a whole series of conflicts. (See Page 5.)

"I confidently expect to see an Eskimo separatist movement before the year is out," he said. "The Indians already have one going at Brantford—they've even been to the United Nations."

"Vancouver Island is doing its best to revert to the status of Crown colony, thus freeing itself from the hideous thrall of British Columbia."

"British Columbia has already separated itself subconsciously from the rest of Canada, the doctors of Saskatchewan have practically formed a new nation, and if it weren't for Joey Smallwood, I'm quite certain Newfoundland would separate cheerfully."

"The only separatist movement that really isn't getting anywhere is the one I belong to: That's the movement to separate Canada from the United States."
